State Expects Average Sweet Potato Harvest

By Bonnie Coblentz
MSU Extension Service

Mississippi's nationally significant sweet potato harvest is shaping up to be below average because of flooding both early and late in the growing season.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates the sweet potato crop to be 37% harvested as of Oct. 10. USDA estimates 38% is in fair condition and 48% in good condition.

Lorin Harvey, sweet potato specialist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service at the Pontotoc-Flatwoods Branch Experiment Station in Pontotoc, said late-September rains did not delay harvest much.

With 28,000 acres of commercially grown sweet potatoes, Mississippi ranks second nationally behind North Carolina in the number of sweet potato acres. (Photo by MSU Extension Service/Kevin Hudson)

"Two circumstances are not ideal for sweet potato production, and that is early flood conditions that reduce your overall yield and late flood conditions that increase storage issues," Harvey said. "We had both of these flooding scenarios during the 2021 growing season."

The Mississippi sweet potato industry is centered around Calhoun City in Calhoun and Chickasaw counties. After a majority of the Mississippi sweet potato crop was planted in late May to early June, the area received 9 inches of rain in a 72-hour period. Accumulation was even higher in places.

"The month of June was the wettest Calhoun County has had in the last 20 years, with 16.8 inches," Harvey said. "July had 10.65 inches of rain, and August had 8.5 inches more. Normal rainfall is 4 to 6 inches a month in that area, so that put us 5 to 6 inches above average for each of those months."

That much rainfall early in the growing season stunts sweet potato growth, as plants cannot breathe in saturated soil.

Rainfall at the end of the growing season causes storage problems, such as rot issues.

"Warm, wet soils increase bacteria and fungus growth in the soils," Harvey said. "These potatoes have the potential to be exposed to more of these soil issues this year, which can cause long-term storage problems."

In ideal conditions, a good-quality sweet potato can store for 13 months.

"If the market is fetching a higher price right now, people will push to wash and sell fresh potatoes," Harvey said. "If the market is saturated, people will do their best to store them."

While the beginning and end of the 2021 growing season have been difficult, it was business as usual through the summer. Neither disease nor insects presented any significant, abnormal challenges to growers.

"The vines looked really healthy this year, but the vines don't accurately portray the situation in the soil," Harvey said. "You're not growing vines; you're growing storage roots."

Sweet potatoes are labor-intensive crops to grow, and the Mississippi industry relies on migrant labor for planting and harvest. Harvey said COVID issues slowed the labor pool reaching the job sites, but Mississippi growers were able to get the help they needed to harvest the crop in a timely manner.

Mississippi had 28,000 acres of commercially grown sweet potatoes this year, down just slightly from the 30,000 grown in 2020. Mississippi ranks second nationally behind North Carolina in sweet potato acreage. It ranks third in yield behind California and North Carolina.

"The decrease represents normal acreage fluctuation," Harvey said. "Early-season flooding damaged some acres, and not all of them were replanted."

Alba Collart, MSU Extension agricultural economist, said 2021 prices for the prime Mississippi sweet potatoes are more comparable to 2019 prices than to 2020 prices.

"A 40-pound carton of U.S. No. 1 sweet potatoes is bringing $23.44, compared to $26.16 in 2020 and $24.92 in 2019," Collart said. "U.S. No. 2 sweet potatoes are bringing $17.78 per 40-pound carton this year, which is very close to the price paid for these potatoes the last two years."

She said U.S. annual sweet potato consumption continues the upward trend from when it was first tracked beginning in 1984.

"Annual average per capita availability, which is a proxy for consumption, increased from 4.2 pounds in 2000 to 7.9 pounds in 2019, which is the most recent estimate," Collart said. "This year, we can expect demand for sweet potatoes to increase as we approach the holiday season."

Excessive rains early and late in the growing season kept the 2021 sweet potato crop from excelling. Commissioner Andy Gipson Announces November 2021 Wild Hog Control Program Application Period

By Chris McDonald
Director of Federal and
Environmental Affairs - MDAC

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson announced that the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC) will begin accepting a new round of applications for its Wild Hog Control Program (WHCP) on Monday, November 1. The application period will close on Monday, November 15. All Mississippi counties are eligible for the application period. In Mississippi alone, wild hogs cause more than $60 million in damages annually.

Through the WHCP, MDAC provides "smart" wild hog traps to landowners and managers for the control of wild hogs on private agricultural and forestry lands in Mississippi. MDAC provides the training necessary to use the "smart" traps and technical guidance regarding the most effective methods to trap and control wild hogs on private lands.

"We are beginning to enter fall and winter months when wild hog trapping is highly successful," said Commissioner Gipson. This success is normally due to limited natural food resources during this time of year, and the harvest of most agricultural crops has been completed. This limits food competition for trap sites and increases trapping success.

Commissioner Andy Gipson announced that the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce will begin accepting a new round of applications for its Wild Hog Control Program, which provides "smart" traps to landowners and managers for the control of wild hogs on private agricultural and forestry lands in Mississippi. The application period will be open Monday, November 1 through Monday, November 15.

Andy Gipson
Commissioner

Applications must be completed and submitted online at www.mdac.ms.gov/whcp. Submitted applications will be evaluated based on the number of acres available for trapping, historical agricultural losses caused by wild hogs on the property and current trapping efforts on the property. A cooperative application is encouraged for small acreage (i.e., adjoining land managers of small parcels should work together to submit one application). Traps will be available for one-month intervals, dependent upon use and success. One trap per 1,000 acres is recommended, depending on landscape and land use.

Visit www.mdac.ms.gov/whcp for program guidelines, applications and additional information. Submit questions regarding the WHCP to Chris McDonald at chris@mdac.ms.gov.

Mississippi Sweet Potatoes... Nature's Best!

Sweet Potato & Chorizo Sausage Bites

1 pound fresh Mexican chorizo sausage, casings removed
2 1/4 cups all-purpose baking mix (such as Bisquick)
1 (8-oz.) pkg. pre-shredded extra-sharp Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup chilled mashed roasted sweet potato
1/8 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/8 teaspoon kosher salt
6 tablespoons plum jam or scuppernong jelly
2 tablespoons Dijon mustard

Lightly grease a baking sheet. Stir together sausage, baking mix, cheese, mashed sweet potato, cinnamon, and salt in a large bowl. Roll into 48 (1 1/2-inch) balls, and place about 1 inch apart on prepared baking sheet. Bake at 350° until sausage balls are cooked through and deep golden brown, about 20 minutes. Stir together jelly and mustard in a small bowl until well blended. Serve with sausage balls. Source: SouthernLiving.com.

Sweet Potato Butter

2 Cups sweet potatoes
3/4 Cup honey
2 Tablespoons lemon juice

Combine all ingredients in a saucepan over low heat. Cook and stir until mixture is thick and smooth, about 25 minutes. Pour into two sterilized cups; cover and refrigerate. Source: U.S. Sweet Potato Council.

Sweet Potato Stacks

2 pounds sweet potatoes (about 4 medium), peeled
5 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons fresh rosemary leaves
1/4 cup cane syrup
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 1/4 teaspoons kosher salt, divided
1/4 cup toasted pecans, chopped

Cut potatoes into 48 (1/4-inch-thick) rounds; set aside. Reserve remaining potatoes for another use. Melt butter in a small saucepan over medium-high. Stir in rosemary. Cook, stirring often, until butter is browned, about 6 minutes. Remove from heat. Remove rosemary using a slotted spoon; reserve for garnish. Stir cane syrup, cinnamon, and 1/4 teaspoon of the salt into brown butter until smooth. Coat a 12-cup muffin pan with cooking spray. Place 2 potato rounds in each cup; sprinkle evenly with remaining 1 teaspoon kosher salt. Add 2 potato rounds to each cup; top each stack with 1 teaspoon brown butter mixture, and reserve remaining mixture. Cover pan with aluminum foil. Bake at 375° until potatoes are tender, 25-30 minutes. Remove pan from oven; discard foil. Using a small offset spatula or a spoon, remove potato stacks from the pan. Transfer to a serving platter. Drizzle with remaining brown butter mixture. Top with pecans and reserved rosemary leaves. Source: SouthernLiving.com.

Oven-Baked Sweet Potato Fries

1 pound sweet potatoes, unpeeled cut into 1/4-in. matchsticks
1 tablespoon cornstarch or potato starch
2 tablespoons peanut oil
1/2 teaspoon kosher salt

Toss together sweet potatoes and cornstarch in a large bowl until evenly coated. Drizzle with oil; toss until evenly coated. Arrange in a single layer and evenly spaced among 2 baking sheets lined with parchment paper. Bake at 425° until bottoms start to brown, about 15 minutes. Remove from oven. Flip fries using tongs, moving smaller fries toward center of baking sheet if browning too quickly. Return to oven, rotating sheets between top and bottom racks. Bake at 425°F until browned and crisp, 10-15 minutes. Remove from oven. Sprinkle fries evenly with salt. Serve immediately. Source: SouthernLiving.com.

The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

It's FREE to advertise, just include your name, mailing address and account number that the subscription is listed under on each ad that you submit (this information will not be printed). Each subscriber is allowed to advertise two ads in the Bulletin, listing one ad per category.
- All listings must be agriculture related (raised, grown, produced or operated on your farm). At the top of your ad, write the category that the ad should be listed under. We reserve the right to edit, revise or reject each ad. Please print or type your ad.

Commissioner Andy Gipson Officially Kicked off the 162nd Mississippi State Fair

Commissioner Andy Gipson Recognizes Partnership Between Mississippi State Fairgrounds and Alcorn State University

By Hannah East

During the 162nd Mississippi State Fair, Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson recognized the partnership between the Mississippi State Fairgrounds and Alcorn State University. Commissioner Gipson was joined by Dr. Felicia Nave, president of Alcorn State University.

"Alcorn State Extension has been a staple here at the fairgrounds, and a partner with the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC), for years," said Commissioner Gipson. "This partnership dates back to 1994, when Alcorn State started with two mules as part of their working exhibit that created hot, fresh cane syrup. Today, the Alcorn State booth includes a similar, but more modern exhibit with a mobile syrup processing unit. The syrup they make goes hand in hand with the buttermilk biscuits provided by MDAC's famous Biscuit Booth."

Alcorn State Extension's display boasts of the only sugar cane harvester of its kind in the United States. The booth is located next to MDAC's Biscuit Booth along the Midway at the Mississippi State Fairgrounds. A related sugar cane exhibit and mule are next to the Alcorn exhibit inside the State Fair's Mississippi Frontier Village.

"We are delighted to continue our working relationship with the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce," said President Nave. "Not only have we recently partnered on an initiative highlighting Mississippi universities, our school has proudly participated in the annual State Fair for over 20 years by offering an educational and delicious exhibit in conjunction with the Biscuit Booth."

In 2021, a seat on the Mississippi State Fairgrounds Advisory Council was added to represent Alcorn State University. And in recognition of Alcorn's 150th anniversary and as the nation's oldest public historically Black land-grant institution, MDAC's 2021 regulatory inspection stickers used across the state from fuel pumps to scales featured the purple and gold colors of Alcorn State University.

By Hannah East

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson announced on October 8, 2021, several additions to the 2022 Dixie National Livestock Show and Rodeo during a press conference held at the Mississippi Trade Mart. "I am excited to announce Southern AgCredit as the new title sponsor for the annual Dixie National Livestock Show and Rodeo," said Commissioner Gipson. "Also this year, our agency is partnering with the Foundation for Mississippi Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks to hold the Spring Edition of the Mississippi Ag and Outdoor Expo during an extended weekend of the Dixie National Rodeo. This adds another dynamic to the traditional events held during Dixie National. Visitors from across the country look forward to this annual, month-long agricultural event, and I believe it will be bigger and better than ever."

"We are delighted to be the title sponsor of the Dixie National Livestock Show and Rodeo. We know Southern AgCredit and the Dixie National are a natural pair," said Morgan. "We both have deep roots in Mississippi and the surrounding area, as well as an affinity for serving those with a passion for agriculture. We look forward to working together to make the 57th Dixie National the greatest yet!"

"On behalf of our Foundation Board, I want to express how incredibly excited we are to present the Spring Edition of the Mississippi Ag and Outdoor Expo at the Dixie National Rodeo," said Brazil.

The Dixie National Livestock Show and Rodeo, the largest rodeo event east of the Mississippi River, brings in participates from all over the world and generates millions of dollars in the local economy. This coming year, the rodeo competitions will be extended to include a second weekend, February 11-13 and 16-19. The entertainment lineup for the 2022 Dixie National Rodeo includes Dylan Scott, Joe Nichols, the Gatlin Brothers, Gary Allan, Neal McCoy, Justin Moore and Bellamy Brothers.

"Harper & Morgan Rodeo is very proud of the past success of the Dixie National Rodeo and even more excited for the future. The renovations to the fairgrounds, the Coliseum, and the Trade Mart are a part of making the Dixie National Rodeo a huge success. With the support of our partners and their continued investment, The Dixie National Rodeo will be second to none," said Lovelace.

The 57th Annual Dixie National Livestock Show and Rodeo will run Wednesday, January 19, through Sunday, February 20, 2022, at the Mississippi State Fairgrounds. Visit www.dixienational.org for more information as it becomes available.
