Despite Pandemic, Dixie National Sale Continues

By Nathan Gregory
MSU Extension Service

The Dixie National Sale of Junior Champions began in 1970 to encourage young people to pursue livestock projects and has been the culmination of the Dixie National Junior Round-Up ever since.

That annual tradition not only continued uninterrupted this year through the COVID-19 pandemic, but the number of animals shown during the week was actually up 3% from last year with 2,292 head of livestock.

The 52nd consecutive sale was held February 11. Throughout the week, 1,593 4-H and FFA members participated in the round-up. Forty-five animals advanced to the sale as champion market animals. This year, the total sale amount generated since the event's inception eclipsed $8 million.

"Every participant we had this week exhibited more than just their animals," said Mississippi State University Extension 4-H livestock specialist Dean Jousan. "They showed an ability to clear even more hurdles than in a normal year just to make it to the round-up. Everyone involved, from the parents and event staff to exhibitors of animals featured in the sale, deserves praise."

The sale's committee launched a scholarship program in 1993. This year, 38 scholarships for 4-H and FFA high school seniors, premier exhibitors and exhibitors of supreme champion livestock scholarships totaling $60,000 in support were awarded. The total amount of scholarship funding awarded surpassed $1 million this year.

Mississippi Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson said the decision to hold the event despite unusual circumstances was made with these young people in mind.

"This year has been probably the most challenging to have this event, but we made the decision working together as a team months ago that we will have the Dixie National Livestock Show no matter what, and we've successfully done that," Gipson said. "I got to sit down and visit with so many exhibitors who are graduating this year and would not have been eligible to come back next year. If we had not had this event, these scholarships would not have happened. If we had not had this event, these young people would not have been able to show the animals they raised and cared for all this time."

This year's sale included 45 champion market animals, including 16 hogs, 10 goats, 10 lambs and nine steers. The preliminary total sale was $390,925, which is the second largest total on record. Sale proceeds for hogs reached $132,500; steers, $93,000; goats, $78,675; and lambs, $85,250. For photos of the 2021 Sale of Junior Champions see pages 15-21.

MSU Extension sends faculty and staff to assist with the event each year.

"We're proud of this event's legacy, but, more importantly, we're honoring these students here today who made the Sale of Champions, the scholarship winners and also all the exhibitors that were here this week," said Extension Director Gary Jackson. "It's extraordinary to be able to put this event on during a pandemic, and we're proud of our young people for using best safety practices like face coverings and social distancing and taking all that into consideration while getting this done."

This year's round-up also marked the first hosted at the new Mississippi Trade Mart. Opened in 2020 for the Mississippi State Fair, the $30 million, 110,000-square-foot facility features 63,000 square feet of column-free space that can be divided into three trade halls that connect to a 26,000-square-foot arena floor. The new building also has a covered space for outside events and opens into a new plaza shared with the Mississippi Coliseum.

USDA Extends General Signup for Conservation Reserve Program

By: USDA Office of Communications

Andy Gipson
Commissioner

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is extending the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) General Signup period, which had previously been announced as ending on Feb. 12, 2021. USDA will continue to accept offers as it takes this opportunity for the incoming Administration to evaluate ways to increase enrollment. Under the previous Administration, incentives and rental payment rates were reduced resulting in an enrollment shortfall of over 4 million acres. The program, administered by USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA), provides annual rental payments for 10 to 15 years for land devoted to conservation purposes, as well as other types of payments.

Before the General CRP signup period ends, producers will have the opportunity to adjust or resubmit their offers to take advantage of planned improvements to the program.

"The Conservation Reserve Program provides a tremendous opportunity to address climate change both by retiring marginal cropland and by restoring grasslands, wetlands, and forests," said Robert Bonnie, Deputy Chief of Staff, Office of the Secretary. "CRP has a 35-year track record of success beyond just climate benefits, by providing income to producers, improving water quality, reducing erosion, and supporting wildlife habitat and the hunting and fishing opportunities that go along with it. By extending this signup period, we'll have time to evaluate and implement changes to get this neglected program back on track."

As one of the largest private-lands conservation programs in the United States, CRP provides both economic and conservation benefits by taking land out of agricultural production. Program successes include:

- Sequestering in soils and plants over 12 million metric tons of carbon dioxide equivalent (CO2e), or about the same amount that the entire state of Delaware emits annually.
- Preventing more than 2 billion tons of soil from being blown away by wind erosion over the life of currently enrolled acres.
- Reducing phosphorous reaching streams by almost 85 million pounds, nitrogen by nearly 450 million pounds, and sediment by over 160 million tons in 2020 alone.
- Creating more than 2.3 million acres of restored wetlands while protecting more than 177,000 stream miles with riparian forest and grass buffers, enough to go around the world seven times.
- Establishing over a half million acres of dedicated pollinator habitat and nearly 15 million more acres of diverse plantings that provide forage for pollinators.
- Increasing populations of ducks and other game birds, prairie chickens, and such grassland songbirds as Baird's Sparrow. CRP in the Northern Great Plains supports an estimated 8.6% of the grassland bird population.
- Increasing habitat that supports economic opportunities, such as job creation, related to hunting and fishing activities.

This signup for CRP gives producers an opportunity to enroll land for the first time or re-enroll land under existing contracts that will be expiring September 30, 2021. All interested producers, including those on Indian reservations and with trust lands, are encouraged to contact their local USDA Service Center for more information.

All USDA Service Centers are open for business, including those that restrict in-person visits or require appointments. All Service Center visitors wishing to conduct business with FSA, Natural Resources Conservation Service, or any other Service Center agency should call ahead and schedule an appointment. Service Centers that are open for appointments will prescreen visitors based on health concerns or recent travel, and visitors must adhere to social distancing guidelines. Visitors are also required to wear a face covering during their appointment. Our program delivery staff will continue to work with our producers by phone, email, and using online tools. More information can be found at farmers.gov/coronavirus.

From Our Kitchen To Yours

Delicious Spring-Time Sandwiches

****

Turkey, Apple and Swiss Melt

1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
1 tablespoon honey
8 (1-ounce) slices whole-wheat bread
4 (1-ounce) slices Swiss cheese
5 ounces thinly sliced Granny Smith apple (about 1 small)
8 ounces thinly sliced lower-sodium deli turkey breast
Cooking spray

Combine mustard and honey in a small bowl. Spread one side of each of four bead slices with 1 1/2 teaspoons mustard mixture. Place one cheese slice on dressed side of bread slices; top each with five apple slices and two ounces of turkey. Top sandwiches with remaining four bread slices. Coat both sides of sandwiches with cooking spray. Heat a large non-stick skillet over medium-high heat. Add sandwiches to pan. Cook two minutes on each side or until bread is browned and cheese melts.

Open-Faced Pimiento Cheese BLTs

2 tablespoons bottled pimientos, drained
1 tablespoon grated peeled shallots
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon cider vinegar
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
4 ounces shredded reduced-fat sharp cheddar cheese (about 1 cup)
1 1/4 ounces grated fresh Parmesan cheese (about 1/3 cup)
4 (1-ounce) slices sourdough bread (toasted)
12 tomato slices
1/4 teaspoon kosher salt
4 center-cut bacon slices, cooked and halved
1 cup baby arugula leaves

Combine the first seven ingredients in a large bowl. Spread three tablespoons cheese mixture on each bread slice; top each with three tomato slices. Sprinkle tomato slices evenly with salt. Top each sandwich with two bacon halves and 1/4 cup arugula.

Roast Beef Sandwiches with Watercress Slaw

1 cup packaged angel hair slaw
1 cup chopped trimmed watercress
1/3 cup thinly sliced green onions
2 tablespoons minced fresh tarragon
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 (8-ounce) French bread baguette
4 teaspoons butter, softened
8 ounces lower-sodium, thinly sliced deli roast beef
8 (1/4-inch-thick) slices tomato

Combine first six ingredients. Cut baguette crosswise into four pieces. Cut each piece in half horizontally using a serrated knife. Spread one teaspoon butter on each bottom half of baguette. Divide roast beef evenly over bottom halves of baguette. Arrange about one cup slaw mixture and two tomato slices over each sandwich; top with top halves of baguette.

Smoked Salmon Sandwich on Pumpernickel

4 slices pumpernickel bread
1/2 cup low-fat cream cheese
1/2 small English cucumber, thinly sliced
1/4 small red onion, thinly sliced
1 (4-ounce) package smoked sockeye salmon
2 teaspoons capers
Freshly ground pepper
Vegetable or potato chips

Spread bread slices on one side with low-fat cream cheese. Top two slices with cucumber, onion, and salmon. Sprinkle with capers and freshly ground pepper. Top with remaining two bread slices. Serve sandwiches with chips.

Advertising Guidelines

The Mississippi Market Bulletin is published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. The Mississippi Market Bulletin is an important way for the Department to disseminate news and information about issues affecting Mississippi's agriculture industry and the Department's operations.

Through its classified advertising section, the Bulletin provides a forum for Mississippi residents to buy and sell agricultural related items while also giving statewide exposure to small farmers who might not normally have the economic resources for such widespread advertising. The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Advertising rules and guidelines have been established for the Mississippi Market Bulletin in order to comply with regulations enforced by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and to maintain the objectives of the publication. The staff of the Mississippi Market Bulletin reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any advertisement.

The Mississippi Market Bulletin assumes no responsibility for any notice appearing in the Bulletin nor for any transaction resulting from published notices. Advertisers are cautioned that it is against the law to misrepresent any product offered for sale in public notices or advertisements carried in any publication that is delivered by the United States Postal Service.

- In order to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin you must be a subscriber. It's FREE to advertise, just include your name, mailing address and account number that the subscription is listed under on each ad that you submit (this information will not be printed). Each subscriber is allowed to advertise two ads in the Bulletin, listing one ad per category.
- All listings must be agriculture related (raised, grown, produced or operated on your farm). At the top of your ad, write the category that the ad should be listed under. We reserve the right to edit, revise or reject each ad. Please print or type your ad.
- There is a 30-word limit for classified advertisements, this includes: price (on the item you are selling), your city, county and telephone number or name and complete address must be included in the ad if you do not list a telephone number. Ads cannot be held over from one issue to another. You must submit them for each issue.
- Out-of-state residents are not eligible to advertise with the following exceptions: Out-of-state ads are allowed in the "Wanting To Buy" category. Out-of-state ads are allowed for individuals owning farm property within the state that is being offered for sale.

Advertising Deadline Dates

Dixie National Celebrates the Life of Longtime Rodeo Performer Lecile Harris

The life of the late Lecile Harris, professional rodeo clown and longtime performer at the Dixie National Rodeo, was celebrated on the Mississippi State Fairgrounds with a processional and memorial service that included a mural unveiling.

The processional around the State Fairgrounds was led by family members of Lecile Harris, including Matt and Joy Harris, and Indie and Cody Rhoda with their son, Coy. The procession also included special dignitaries, mounted horse groups and the famous Dixie National Wagon Train. Following the procession, Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson and the Harper Morgan Rodeo Company held a brief memorial service and mural unveiling in the Mississippi Coliseum.

Miss Mississippi Mary Margaret Hyer opened the memorial service with a rendition of "How Great Thou Art," followed by words from Commissioner Gipson and PRCA Rodeo Announcer Mike Mathis. Commissioner Gipson recognized Lecile's wife Ethel who could not be present, as well as family members in attendance. Matt Harris shared sentiments about his father. State Representative Dan Eubanks presented the family with a Proclamation recognizing Lecile Harris's contributions.

"I want to thank Lecile's son, Matt, his wife Joy, and their family for joining us today as we remember Lecile Harris, and the incredible legacy he left behind," said Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson. "His loss has been felt not only by the Dixie National Rodeo's faithful spectators, but all Mississippians and those within the rodeo community around the nation. Though we mourn the loss of our dear friend, who passed away one year ago today following his last performance of the 2020 Dixie National Rodeo, we want to celebrate his life today and the impact he has made on multiple generations."

Commissioner Gipson and the Harris family cut the ribbon to the newly designed mural featuring Lecile Harris. The extensive mural is located inside the front lobby on the north side of the Mississippi Coliseum for visitors' viewing, and guests can have their picture taken with Lecile for years to come.

Lecile Harris started out as a bullrider but switched to comedy after being injured at age 52. He was also a drummer in the Memphis area during the 1950s and 1960s and played football at the University of Tennessee-Martin.
