Background

House Bill 280, 2023 Regular Session, was signed into Mississippi law by Governor Tate Reeves on March 21, 2023. This new law established a Study Committee for the purpose of studying the purchasing, acquiring, leasing, or holding an interest in agricultural land by foreign governments. The Study Committee was comprised of the following nine members:

- The Commissioner of Department of Agriculture and Commerce, or his or her designee (Commissioner Andy Gipson);
- The Attorney General, or his or her designee (designee Whitney Lipscomb);
- The Chairman of the House Judiciary A Committee (Representative Angela Cockerham);
- The Chairman of the Senate Judiciary A Committee (Senator Brice Wiggins);
- The Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee (Representative Bill Pigott);
- The Chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee (Senator Chuck Younger);
- One person to be appointed by the Governor ( Mr. David Hall);
- One person to be appointed by the Lieutenant Governor (Mr. Meredith Allen); and
- One person to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall be a representative of Farm Bureau (Mr. Ted Kendall IV).

At its initial meeting, the Study Committee elected the following members as its officers:

- Commissioner Andy Gipson, Chairman;
- Representative Bill Pigott, Vice Chairman; and
- Representative Angela Cockerham, Secretary.

House Bill 280 required the Study Committee to develop and report its findings to the Mississippi Legislature on or before December 1, 2023. This report details the official findings of the Study Committee. This report contains information collected during committee meetings held on August 24, September 27, October 19, and November 9. All meetings were open to the public, and video recordings of those meetings were archived and may be viewed at www.mdac.ms.gov/farmland.

State of Mississippi Legal Authority

Under existing state law, one provision of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 and two statutory provisions govern the ownership of land in the state by resident aliens and nonresident aliens. Article 4, Section 84 of the Mississippi Constitution requires the Legislature to enact laws to limit, restrict, or prevent the acquiring and holding of land in this State by nonresident aliens, and may limit or restrict the acquiring or holding of lands by corporations. Likewise, Mississippi Code Annotated Sections 89-1-23 and 29-1-75 provide additional oversight related to foreign ownership of land, including agricultural land, in Mississippi.

Currently, Miss. Code Ann. § 89-1-23 provides as follows:

- Resident aliens may acquire and hold land and may dispose of it and transmit it by descent, as citizens of the state may.
- Any person who was or is a citizen of the United States and became or becomes an alien by reason of marriage to a citizen of a foreign country, may inherit, may hold, own, transmit by descent or transfer land free from any escheat to the State of Mississippi.
- Nonresident aliens shall not hereafter acquire or hold land. However, they may have or take a lien on land to secure a debt, and at any sale thereof to enforce payment of the debt may purchase the same, and thereafter hold it, not longer than twenty (20) years, with full power during said time to sell the land, in fee, to a citizen; or he may retain it by becoming a citizen within that time.
- Nonresident aliens who are citizens of Syria or the Lebanese Republic may inherit property from citizens or residents of the State of Mississippi.
- Nonresident aliens may acquire and hold not to exceed three hundred twenty (320) acres of land in this state for the purpose of industrial development thereon.
- Nonresident aliens may acquire and hold not to exceed five (5) acres of land for residential purposes.

Currently, Miss. Code Ann. § 29-1-75 provides as follows (repeals on July 1, 2026):

- Except as otherwise provided in this section, neither a corporation nor a nonresident alien, nor any association of persons composed in whole or in part of nonresident aliens, shall directly or indirectly purchase or become the owner of any of the public lands; and every patent issued in contravention hereof shall be void.
- A banking corporation owning such tax-forfeited lands or holding a mortgage or deed of trust thereon at the time of the sale to the state, and whose mortgage or deed of trust is still in force and effect, may purchase such lands, regardless of acreage, owned by it as aforesaid or on which it held a mortgage or deed of trust. In event of a purchase by such corporation as a mortgagee, such lands shall be held for the benefit of the mortgagor subject to all the terms and conditions of the mortgage or deed of trust held by the purchasing banking corporation and, upon payment of the debt secured by such mortgage or deed of trust, together with interest and incidents, such banking corporation shall in that event reconvey such lands to the original mortgagor, his heirs or assigns.

- Any other nonbanking corporation may purchase lands sold or forfeited to the state for delinquent taxes under any section of Chapter 1, Title 29, specifically relating to the sale of such tax-forfeited lands by the Secretary of State. A nonbanking corporation purchasing land sold or forfeited to the state shall be subject to the acreage limitations of Section 29-1-73.
- Nonresident aliens may acquire and hold not to exceed three hundred twenty (320) acres of public lands in this state for the purpose of industrial development thereon. In addition, any nonresident alien may acquire and hold not to exceed five (5) acres of public lands for residential purposes. If any land acquired by a nonresident alien for the purpose of industrial development ceases to be used for industrial development, it shall escheat to the public body that sold such land to the nonresident alien.

On May 9, 2023, Attorney General Lynn Fitch provided an official opinion at the request of Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson related to restrictions imposed in Miss. Code Ann. § 89-1-23. In light of existing state law, the question posed was “Specifically, is the transfer of title in land to any single investor in excess of 320 acres null and void?” The official opinion in short states as follows:

Regarding the consequence of violating Section 89-1-23, the statute does not provide that any transfers in title made contrary to the limitations therein shall be null and void. Compare Miss. Code Ann. § 89-1-23, with Miss. Code Ann. § 29-1-75(1) (“[Every patent issued in contravention hereof shall be void.]”). Rather, Section 89-1-23 only states that “[a]ll land held or acquired contrary to this section shall escheat to the state.

Beyond this, we cannot by official opinion address whether the terms or provisions of a specific contract would be unlawful and therefore null and void.

Miss. AG Op., Gipson (May 9, 2023).

See Appendix A for the full official opinion.

Agriculture and Commerce Commissioner Andy Gipson is currently requesting a follow-up opinion regarding the possible application of the laws of escheatment as currently enacted. This opinion will be provided to the legislature when received.

Federal Legal Authority

The Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act (AFIDA) became federal law in 1978. Under this law, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) adopted 7 C.F.R Part 781 – Disclosure of Foreign Investment in Agricultural Land as regulations to implement the AFIDA. In particular, the regulations were created to establish a nationwide system for the collection of information pertaining to foreign ownership of U.S. agricultural land. The regulations require foreign investors who acquire, transfer, or hold an interest in U.S. agricultural land to report such holdings and transactions to the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture on AFIDA Report Form FSA-153. Current federal law imposes no restrictions on the amount of private U.S. agricultural land that can be foreign-owned.

The USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) and USDA Business Center are responsible for the implementation of AFIDA law and regulations as they relate to foreign ownership of U.S. agricultural land. The data gained from AFIDA disclosures are used in the preparation of an annual report to Congress, which is published on the FSA website <https://www.fsa.usda.gov/programs-and-services/economic-and-policy-analysis/afida/index>. Reports are available currently for 1978 – 2021.

Below are some highlights for Mississippi taken from the most recent December 31, 2021, FSA “Foreign Holdings of U.S. Agricultural Land” report. The full FSA report is included in Appendix B of this report.

- 777,176 acres of land in Mississippi was held by foreign interest in 2021 (2.6%). This is an increase from 618,752 acres in 2011 (2.1%)
- 757,816 agricultural acres was held by foreign interest in 2021 (2.5%). This is an increase from 600,456 acres in 2011 (2.0%). The use of the 2021 agricultural acres included:
  - 177,139 Cropland
  - 11,060 Pasture
  - 550,265 Forest
  - 19,352 Other Agriculture
- The Netherlands has the largest agricultural and non-agricultural landholdings by country of foreign investor in Mississippi (357,582 acres) followed by Germany (60,352 acres). China is reported by the USDA to hold some 88 acres of agricultural land.

National Overview and State Legislation

As of December 2021, 3.1% (40,031,308 acres) of all private agricultural land in the U.S. had foreign ownership. This was an increase of 2.4 million acres from Dec. 31, 2020, and an increase of 14.3 million acres since 2011. Of the 40,031,308 acres, 47% was forestland, 29% was cropland, and 22% was pasture/other ag purposes. The top countries of foreign investments were Canada (31%), Netherlands (12%), Italy (7%), and United Kingdom/Germany (6%). China reported 0.9% ownership interest in agricultural and non-agricultural land. The states with the most foreign held agricultural land acres were Texas (5.2 million), Maine (3.6 million), Colorado (1.9 million), Alabama (1.8 million), Oklahoma (1.67 million), and Washington (1.58 million). Four states do not restrict foreign ownership, 24 states restrict foreign ownership, and 22 states expressly allow for foreign investment. See “Foreign Ownership of Land: Legislative Review” in Appendix C for the detailed review. An in depth review of current statutes related to foreign ownership of agricultural land can be viewed at <https://nationalaglawcenter.org/resources-at-a-glance-foreign-ownership-of-ag-land/>.

On October 17, 2023, Arkansas became the first known state in the U.S. to force a Chinese state-owned company to sell its farmland. Arkansas ordered Syngenta, a large crop protection and seed company, to sell 160 acres of farmland within two years because the company is Chinese-owned. The order is Arkansas’ first enforcement action under a recent state law passed in 2023 (Act 636) that prohibits certain foreign parties from acquiring or holding land. China is among the prohibited parties due to it being subject to U.S. arms export regulations under the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (22 C.F.R §126.1). The land in question is actually owned by Northrup King Seed Co., a subsidiary of Syngenta Seeds, LLC, which is ultimately owned by China National Chemical Company (ChemChina), a state-owned enterprise. The Arkansas Attorney General ordered the company to divest the land within two years and also imposed a civil penalty of $280,000 for failing to file documents in a timely manner that are required by Arkansas state law. See Appendix D for documents related to the Arkansas order (press release, summary of Act 636, Act 636 as engrossed).

The Study Committee heard an overview of this development by Arkansas Secretary of Agriculture Wes Ward at the Committee’s meeting held on October 19, 2023.

Foreign Ownership of Water Rights

Section 1(5)(d) of House Bill 280 requires information on water rights in Mississippi. Surface water and groundwater use in Mississippi is regulated by the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ). All water, whether occurring on the surface of the ground or underneath the surface of the ground, has been declared by statute to be among the basic resources of the state and subject to regulation governing control, development, and use of water for all beneficial purposes. No person shall initiate the drilling of a groundwater well or the placement of a surface water intake until an appropriate groundwater or surface water use permit has been issued by the MDEQ Permit Board, or its designee, as required by Miss. Code Ann. Sections 51-3-5 and 51-3-7. Currently, MDEQ does not prohibit or limit any surface water permits or groundwater use permits based on foreign ownership of land. As a result, MDEQ does not currently maintain any information reflecting foreign ownership of water rights in Mississippi.

Foreign Ownership of Water Desalination Facilities

The Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) is the environmental regulatory agency for water desalination facilities in Mississippi. MDEQ is not aware of any such facility in the state based on the agency's knowledge of permitting history. If a water desalination facility was to be constructed, standard environmental permits would have to be obtained (if required) regardless of ownership. This information is intended to meet the requirements of Section 1(5)(e) of House Bill 280.

Foreign Ownership of Energy Production, Storage, or Distribution Facilities

This information is intended to meet the requirements of Section 1(5)(f) of House Bill 280 and was provided by the Mississippi Public Service Commission (the Commission). See complete comments in Appendix E.

Regulation of public utilities in Mississippi is the prerogative of the State Legislature, which may delegate its regulatory authority to a commission. The Legislature granted the Mississippi Public Service Commission ("Commission") broad authority to regulate public utilities, bestowing upon the Commission "exclusive original jurisdiction over the intrastate business and property of public utilities."

In relevant part, public utilities are defined as entities owning or operating equipment or facilities in the state for, "[t]he generation, manufacture, transmission, or distribution of electricity to or for the public for compensation" or "[t]he transmission, sale, sale for resale, or distribution of natural, artificial, or mixed natural or artificial gas to the public for compensation by means of transportation, transmission, or distribution facilities and equipment located within this state." The Commission does not exercise jurisdiction over municipally owned or operated utilities in the state where the utility is not operating in excess of one mile of its corporate boundaries. Further, the Commission's jurisdiction over legislatively-created utility districts and authorities, many of which operate natural gas distribution systems, is limited.

A public utility cannot provide service or construct or acquire facilities without first obtaining a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity ("CPCN") from the Commission. Further, public utilities cannot sell or otherwise dispose of a CPCN without Commission approval. The Commission issues three types of CPCN, one of which are Certificates to Operate, which provide initial authority to operate a public utility, the type of service to be furnished, the initial facilities to be used, and the initial geographical area to be serve. Another type of CPCN issued by the Commission are Facilities Certificates, which authorize the construction or acquisition of any physical facility or plant used in the operation of a public utility. Lastly, the Commission issues Area Certificates, which allow through petition the establishment and alterations to boundaries of certificated areas upon good cause shown. It is against this framework that the Commission exercises jurisdiction over public utilities in the state.

Energy Production

Mississippi has over three dozen Electric Generating Units ("EGUs") that utilize nuclear, natural gas, coal or solar as its fuel source. With the exception of the Red Hills Power Plant, these units are owned and operated by Entergy Mississippi, LLC, Mississippi Power Company, Cooperative Energy, the Tennessee Valley Authority, a municipal electric utility, or are cogeneration facilities.

In December 2014, private sector entities began petitioning the Commission for CPCNs to construct and operate solar electric generating facilities in Mississippi. State law provides, that "no public utility or other person shall begin the construction of any facility for the generation and transmission of electricity to be directly or indirectly used for the furnishing of public utility service in this state...without first obtaining" a CPCN from the Commission (emphasis added). In granting CPCNs, the Commission has consistently found that these entities are not public utilities, but rather "other person[s]" within the meaning of Miss. Code Ann. § 77-3-14. To date, there are roughly 30 existing, under construction, or approved utility-scale solar electric generating facilities in Mississippi and another 10 pending before the Commission.

Because these entities are not public utilities under state law, the statutory prohibition of transferring a CPCN without Commission approval does not exist. The Commission is not aware of any foreign ownership associated with these facilities and does not have jurisdiction to investigate the ultimate ownership of the entities owning and operating these facilities.

The natural gas Local Distribution Companies ("LDCs") that come under the jurisdiction of the Commission do not produce natural gas, but rather procure the commodity at market. In light of that, the Commission possesses no knowledge of foreign ownership in that sector of energy production.

Energy Distribution

The electric grid and accompanying facilities in the state are owned by numerous entities. At a high level, the electric grid consists of transmission facilities and distribution facilities. For areas of the state served by Entergy Mississippi, LLC, and Mississippi Power Company, the two Investor-Owned Utilities own and operate the transmission and distribution systems. The Tennessee Valley Authority and Cooperative Energy are Generation and Transmission utilities that provide wholesale power supply and transmission service to its member cooperatives. There are 25 Rural Electric Cooperatives in the state that take wholesale power service from either the Tennessee Valley Authority, Cooperative Energy, or Mississippi Power Company; these 25 entities own and operate their respective distribution systems.

The natural gas LDCs that come under the jurisdiction of the Commission own and operate natural gas transmission and distribution infrastructure in the state. These LDCs procure natural gas from market providers and take service off various interstate and intrastate pipelines. While the Commission's Pipeline Safety Division is responsible for safety compliance inspections and enforcing state and federal pipeline safety regulations for intrastate natural gas pipeline facilities, we do not have jurisdiction over the ultimate ownership of the assets.

Energy Storage

For purposes of the Study Committee's legislatively tasked directive, Energy storage facilities in the state owned or proposed by "other persons" are not under the control or jurisdiction of the Commission. The Commission has approved a small utility-scale solar facility, which is owned and operated by Mississippi Power Company. The facility can produce 1.285 megawatts and has battery storage capacity of 5.14 megawatt-hours of electricity.

Public Comments and Public Testimony

The Study Committee invited public comments and testimony from Mississippi residents and stakeholders regarding foreign ownership of land in Mississippi. An email address (farmland@mdac.ms.gov) was created for submission of comments and testimony. As of the date of this report, thirty comments were submitted to the Study Committee email address, all in opposition to foreign ownership of land.

Public testimony was received during the October 19, 2023, meeting of the Study Committee. Following are a list of testimonies given:

1. Wes Ward, Arkansas Secretary of Agriculture: Provided an overview regarding Arkansas becoming the first known state in the U.S. to force a Chinese state-owned company to sell its farmland.
2. Representative Becky Currie: As the primary author of House Bill 280, Representative Currie described the original intent of the bill.

3. Casey Anderson, Executive Director, MS Forestry Association: Warned of unintended consequences of limiting foreign investment and ownership in Mississippi's forestry community and the negative impact it could have on rural economics.
4. Adam Savit, Director, China Policy Initiative, America First Policy Institute: Described the threat from the Chinese Communist Party.
5. Lee McCoy, Resident of Mendenhall, MS: Provided comments in opposition to foreign ownership of agricultural land. See additional comments in Appendix E.
6. Owen McIntosh, Mississippi Realtor (Video Recording): Described his belief that the USDA FSA "Foreign Holdings of U.S. Agricultural Land" annual reports do not contain accurate acreage of foreign ownership (under reporting due to voluntary reporting).

Additionally, Attorney Otho E. Pettit, Jr., provided verbal testimony during the September 2023 meeting of the Study Committee in opposition to foreign ownership of agricultural land. See additional comments in Appendix F.

One additional comment letter was submitted by the Southern Crop Production Association (SCPA), a regional not-for-profit trade association representing pesticide registrants, agricultural retailers and distributors who supply farmers and ranchers with products and services. SCPA requested that any foreign ownership of land legislative proposals to include the following exemptions:

- Exemption for land that is used for agricultural research and development, experimental purposes, including testing, developing, and/or producing all crop production inputs for sale or resale to farmers, including, but not limited to seeds, plants, pesticides, soil amendments, biologicals, and fertilizers.
- Allowance for the right to lease land for agricultural research and development, experimental purposes, including testing, developing, and/or producing all crop production inputs for sale or resale to farmers, including, but not limited to seeds, plants, pesticides, soil amendments, biologicals, and fertilizers. SCPA's

See Appendix F for letters, comments, and testimonies in their entirety in the order that they were received.

Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce Assessment

Section 1(5)(g) of House Bill 280 requires the Mississippi Department of Agriculture to provide an assessment of the impact of recent changes in foreign ownership of agricultural land, water, and food security. In response to this, see the letter from Commissioner Andy Gipson attached in Appendix G.

Study Committee Recommendations

In response to its official findings, the Study Committee developed the following observations and recommendations:

1. It is clear that current Mississippi law restricts foreign ownership of land by “nonresident aliens” except for the purpose of industrial development. However, the law lacks a clear, workable enforcement mechanism.
2. Continued unrestricted foreign ownership of Mississippi’s agricultural land and water rights especially by foreign adversaries as defined in 15 CFR 7.4 presents a serious concern to Mississippi and to national security, including food security.
3. The Legislature should act to address these concerns. At a bare minimum, the Legislature should pass an enforcement mechanism with any appropriate reporting requirements and legal enforcement procedures, along with any exemptions as may be necessary or appropriate tailored to Mississippi needs and based on the experiences of other States. In order to accomplish this, the Study Committee highly recommends that the Legislature review and receive guidance from legal experts within the National Agricultural Law Center.

OPINIONS AND POLICY

Re: Nonresident Aliens Owning Over 320 Acres of Land in Mississippi

Dear Commissioner Gipson:

The Office of the Attorney General has received your request for an official opinion.

Question Presented

Based on the restrictions imposed in Mississippi Code Annotated Section 89-1-23, is the transfer of title in land to any single foreign investor in excess of 320 acres null and void?

Brief Response

Section 89-1-23 places restrictions on nonresident aliens acquiring or holding land in Mississippi, including the 320-acre industrial development limitation you reference. However, regarding the consequence of violating Section 89-1-23, the statute only states that “[a]ll land held or acquired contrary to this section shall escheat to the state.”

Applicable Law and Discussion

Section 89-1-23 provides, in part:

Except as otherwise provided in this section, nonresident aliens shall not hereafter acquire or hold land, but a nonresident alien may have or take a lien on land to secure a debt, and at any sale thereof to enforce payment of the debt may purchase the same, and thereafter hold it, not longer than twenty (20) years, with full power during said time to sell the land, in fee, to a citizen; or he may retain it by becoming a citizen within that time. All land held or acquired contrary to this section shall escheat to the state; but a title to real estate in the name of a citizen of the United States, or a person who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen, whether resident or nonresident, if he be a purchaser or holder, shall not be forfeited or escheated by reason of the alienage of any former owner or other person.

Any person who was or is a citizen of the United States and became or becomes an alien by reason of marriage to a citizen of a foreign country, may hereafter inherit, or if he or she heretofore inherited or acquired or hereafter inherits, may hold, own, transmit by descent or transfer land free from any escheat to the State of Mississippi, if said land has not heretofore escheated by final valid order or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Nonresident aliens who are citizens of Syria or the Lebanese Republic may inherit property from citizens or residents of the State of Mississippi.

Nonresident aliens may acquire and hold not to exceed three hundred twenty (320) acres of land in this state for the purpose of industrial development thereon. In addition, any nonresident alien may acquire and hold not to exceed five (5) acres of land for residential purposes. The nonresident alien may dispose of any such land, but if any land acquired for industrial development ceases to be used for industrial development while owned by a nonresident alien, it shall escheat to the state. The limitation set forth in this paragraph shall not apply to corporations in which the stock thereof is partially or wholly owned by nonresident aliens.

(Emphasis added).

As shown, Section 89-1-23 contains certain exceptions to the general prohibition of nonresident aliens acquiring or holding land in Mississippi, including the 320-acre industrial development limitation referenced in your request. Land acquired pursuant to national treaties is also exempt from this prohibition. See De Tenorio v. McGowan, 510 F.2d 92, 95 (5th Cir. 1975) (“This statutory provision yields, of course, to any applicable provision of any valid Treaty of the United States with a foreign country, constituting a part of the Supreme Law of the Land . . .”).

We note that although nonresident alien is not defined by statute, the language of Section 89-1-23 implies that the term only applies to individuals. Further, the statute explicitly provides that the 320-acre industrial development limitation “shall not apply to corporations in which the stock thereof is partially or wholly owned by nonresident aliens.” Miss. Code Ann. § 89-1-23.

Regarding the consequence of violating Section 89-1-23, the statute does not provide that any transfers in title made contrary to the limitations therein shall be null and void. Compare Miss. Code Ann. § 89-1-23, with Miss. Code Ann. § 29-1-75(1) (“[Every patent issued in contravention hereof shall be void.]”). Rather, Section 89-1-23 only states that “[a]ll land held or acquired contrary to this section shall escheat to the state.”

Beyond this, we cannot by official opinion address whether the terms or provisions of a specific contract would be unlawful and therefore null and void. Pursuant to Section 7-5-25, this office is authorized to issue official opinions upon questions of state law only.

Foreign Holdings of U.S. Agricultural Land through December 31, 2021, by the Farm Service Agency and the Farm Production and Conservation Business Center, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Abstract

Foreign persons held an interest in approximately 40 million acres of U.S. agricultural land as of December 31, 2021. This is 3.1 percent of all privately held agricultural land and 1.8 percent of all land in the United States. These and other findings are based on an analysis of reports submitted in compliance with the Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act of 1978.

Summary

Foreign investors held an interest in approximately 40 million acres of U.S. agricultural land (forest land and farm land) as of December 31, 2021. This is an increase of over 2.4 million acres from the December 31, 2020 report and represents 3.1 percent of all privately held agricultural land in the United States. These and other findings are based on information submitted to the U.S. Department of Agriculture in compliance with the Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act of 1978. Forest land accounted for 47 percent of all reported foreign-held acreage, cropland for 29 percent, pasture and other agricultural land for 22 percent, and non-agricultural land for 2 percent. Foreign holdings of U.S. agricultural land increased modestly from 2009 through 2015, increasing an average of 0.8 million per year. Since 2015, foreign holdings have increased an average of 2.2 million acres annually, ranging from 0.8 million acres to 3.3 million acres per year.

Introduction

Foreign individuals and entities reported holding an interest in approximately 40 million acres of U.S. agricultural land as of December 31, 2021.** This is 3.1 percent of all privately held U.S. agricultural land and 1.8 percent of all land in the United States (see fig. 1 for State-level detail).

Summary of the Act and Regulations

The Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act of 1978 (AFIDA),<sup>1</sup> as implemented by the regulations,<sup>2</sup> requires all foreign persons holding agricultural land as of February 1, 1979, to file a report of such holdings with the Secretary of Agriculture by August 1, 1979. All foreign persons who acquire or transfer an interest in agricultural land thereafter are required to report such transactions within 90 days of the date of acquisition or transfer. In addition, any foreign person who holds land that subsequently becomes or ceases to be agricultural land, or any person who holds agricultural land and subsequently becomes or ceases to be a foreign person, must also file a report within 90 days of such change.

AFIDA specifies in detail the information to be supplied by the foreign person and provides that necessary additional information may be obtained by the Secretary. The information required to be reported consists of the legal name and address of the foreign person; country of government or citizenship, if an individual; if not an individual or a government, nature of the legal entity, including the entity's country of creation and principal place of business; type of interest; legal description; acreage; land use; purchase price or any other consideration given; intended use; information about the representative of the foreign person; if applicable, how the interest in the land was transferred; the relationship of the owner to the operator; type of rental agreement, if any; and the date of transaction. In the case of a disposition, the party disposing of the interest is also required to give the legal name and address of the purchaser. Any change in the legal name or address of the foreign person and other entities disclosed on the report form must also be reported within 90 days of such changes. Failure to comply with the AFIDA will subject the foreign person and/or other entities disclosed on the report to a civil penalty of up to 25 percent of the fair market value of the interest held in the land in question.

In accordance with Section 7 of the AFIDA, completed report forms are available for public inspection in Washington, DC, within 10 days of receipt by the Secretary. Section 6 of the Act requires that every 6 months the Secretary transmit to each State copies of completed report forms for foreign-held interests in agricultural land in that State.

Definitions

For this report, the term "holdings" applies to all U.S. agricultural land interests held by foreign investors as of December 31, 2021. This term is used as the title for a subsequent section, which analyzes the reported data.

“Agricultural land” as defined in the Act includes all land in the United States used for forestry production. Land used for forestry production means land exceeding 10 acres in size in which 10 percent is stocked by trees of any size including land that formerly had such tree cover and will be naturally or artificially regenerated. The regulations further define agricultural land as all land used for farming, ranching, or timber production if the tracts are more than 10 acres in size in the aggregate. Land which is currently idle, but last used within the past 5 years for farming, ranching, or timber production, must be reported. Tracts totaling 10 acres or less in the aggregate, and which produce annual gross receipts in excess of $1,000 from the sale of farm, ranch, forestry or timber products, must also be reported.

AFIDA requires reporting "any interest" in the land other than a security interest. The regulations exempt leaseholds of less than 10 years' duration, contingent future interests, non-contingent future interests that do not become possessory upon termination of the present estate, non-agricultural easements and rights-of-way, and interests solely in mineral rights.

A "foreign person," as defined in the Act, includes any individual who: (1) is not a citizen or national of the United States, (2) is not a citizen of the Northern Mariana Islands or the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, or (3) is not lawfully admitted into the United States for permanent residence. Foreign governments, entities which are created under the laws of, or have their principal place of business in a foreign country, and U.S. entities in which there is a significant foreign interest or substantial control are also defined as foreign persons under the Act. Any person who has been issued the Department of Homeland Security, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services “Alien Registration Receipt Card” (green card) is considered lawfully admitted for permanent residence and is exempt from the requirements of the Act.

Individuals are defined as one person or spouses. The "partnership" category includes all legally defined partnerships, joint ventures, and tenancies in common that include two or more persons who are not married. The term partnership does not differentiate between joint tenancies and tenancies in common. In the interest of simplicity and brevity, fine legal distinctions, however important in an individual case, are ignored.

Each foreign entity holding an interest in U.S. agricultural land is required to file a report. Therefore, if two individuals hold an interest in land as a partnership, the partnership is to file one report as a partnership, with the partners' names, addresses, and citizenship listed on the FSA-153 form. Occasionally, however, two people file as individuals, each filing a separate report on the same land with a partial interest of, for example, 49 percent listed on each form. Because it is not always possible to distinguish separate reports for the same land, two such individuals cannot be differentiated from one partnership. This may occur when there is no legal partnership, but individuals hold an interest in the land as tenants in common. If they file together on one form, they are automatically considered a partnership. If they file separately, they are generally considered individuals. Therefore, the data on the number of reported parcels should be used with caution.

The Act is designed to impute foreign person status to certain U.S. entities holding direct and indirect interests in U.S. agricultural land. For purposes of the Act, this is accomplished by defining each successive link in a chain of U.S. entities containing foreign interests as a foreign person.

However, only the foreign person who actually holds the direct (title) interest in the land (that is, the first layer or tier) is considered the reporting entity. This entity need not actually be foreign, but under the Act, is deemed a foreign person if another foreign person holds a significant interest or substantial control in the title owner. In some instances, additional ownership tiers also may not actually be foreign, but may be deemed foreign under the Act for the same reason. The regulations define "significant interest or substantial control" to mean a 10-percent or more interest in the entity if held by a single foreign person or a group of foreign persons acting in concert, or a 50-percent or more interest if held by a group of foreign persons not acting in concert, none of whom individually holds a 10-percent or greater interest in that entity. Under the regulations, the reporting entity (other than an individual or government), whether domestic or foreign, is required to provide information (names, addresses, citizenship, and the nature of the entity, if any) to the third tier of ownership. In addition, all foreign persons holding a significant interest or substantial control in the reporting entity must report.

When the foreign person is an individual from, or an entity created under the laws of, for example, Germany, the report is processed as "Germany." When persons from many different countries hold direct and indirect interests in one piece of land, an attempt is made to identify the predominant country as the country of origin. When there is no predominant country, for example, an equal partnership between a Canadian and a German, the report is processed as a multiple foreign owner with no predominant country.

The AFIDA procedures provide for land to be reported by parcels. All land held by the same entity, in the same manner (type of interest), located in one county, and acquired at the same time, is considered a parcel and is to be reported on a single form. Land does not have to be adjacent to be considered part of one parcel. This parcel concept is intended to ease the reporting burden.

All parcels (and acres) for each land holder have been combined under said land holder. Therefore, the number of land holders is less than the number of parcels. However, because land holders do not always report their names in exactly the same way on each form, it is difficult to precisely associate these forms with one person or legal entity. Some foreign persons hold land in their own names and also hold interests in entities that hold other lands. These entities are treated as separate land holders.

The AFIDA reporting requirements allow foreign persons 90 days to report their transactions to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), but not all transactions occurring in the 90 days preceding the closing date of the report are reported to USDA by that date. In some situations, reports are filed late and/or may be incomplete. This means that in some cases, the 2021 data, and also prior years' data, may be understated.

Analysis of Data Reported Under the Act

Holdings

Data in this section are derived from the reports filed by foreign persons who held an interest in U.S. agricultural and non-agricultural land as of December 31, 2021. To simplify the discussion, the data as of December 31, 2021, hereafter are referred to simply as '2021'. Foreign-held U.S. agricultural acres as of December 31, 2021 were slightly more than 40 million. Foreign-held U.S. agricultural acres as of December 31, 2020 were nearly 37.6 million, resulting in an increase of approximately 2.4 million acres (report 1A).

Concentration of Foreign Holdings of U.S. Agricultural Land

Foreign persons have reported acreage holdings in all 50 States and Puerto Rico (figs. 1 and 2).<sup>3</sup> Except for Maine (described below), only a small percentage of privately held agricultural land in the other 49 States is held by foreign investors (report 1). Maine acreage aside, foreign investment in U.S. agricultural land is concentrated in the South and West.

Texas has the largest amount of foreign-held U.S. agricultural land with approximately 5.3 million acres (report 1). Maine has the second largest amount of foreign-held agricultural acres, with just over 3.6 million. Colorado has the third largest amount of foreign-held agricultural land with approximately 1.9 million acres.

In terms of percentages, roughly 20.1 percent of Maine's privately held agricultural land is held by foreign investors; this is approximately 9 percent of the reported foreign-held agricultural land in the United States (report 1). Hawaii has the second largest percentage of foreign-held U.S. agricultural land, which is 9.2 percent of the privately held agricultural land in the state, and less than 1 percent of the reported foreign-held agricultural land in the United States. The majority of foreign-held agricultural land in Maine consists of forest land while the bulk of Hawaii's foreign held agriculture land is pasture land (report 1C). Washington (7.2 percent), Alabama (6.3 percent), and Florida (6.3 percent) have the next largest percentages of reported foreign-held agricultural land within each of those states.

States showing the largest increases in foreign-held agricultural acres in 2021 were Texas, with an increase of nearly 549,000 acres; Arkansas with an increase of nearly 250,000 acres; and North Carolina, with an increase of nearly 247,000 acres (report 1A). Forty-three percent of the overall increase in acreage between 2020 and 2021 is attributed to these three states. Hawaii, Iowa, and Utah are the only states showing a decrease in foreign-held agricultural acres; the 52,416-acre decline reflects long-term leaseholds which were terminated and the sale of various types of agricultural land. Note that some of the changes reflect reconciliation of past transactions and recording of late filings.

The data reflected in Report 1 and Report 1A pertain to foreign land holdings of agricultural land and do not include holdings of non-agricultural land. There are about 812,000 reported acres of foreign-held non-agricultural land (report 1C). The remaining reports in this publication (reports 1B (showing the top five countries), 1C, and reports 2-9) include the non-agricultural land category.

County concentrations of foreign holdings of agricultural and non-agricultural land within the continental United States are shown in Figure 3.

Country of Origin

Canadian investors own the largest amount of reported foreign-held agricultural and non-agricultural land, with 31 percent, or 12.8 million acres (report 1B). Foreign persons from an additional four countries, the Netherlands with 12 percent, Italy with 7 percent, the United Kingdom with 6 percent, and Germany with 6 percent, collectively held 12.4 million acres or 31 percent of the foreign-held acres in the United States. The remaining 15.6 million acres, or 38 percent of all reported foreign-held agricultural and non-agricultural acres, are held by various other countries. For example, China held 383,935 acres (total acres for "US/China" and "China" in report 6), which is slightly less than 1 percent of foreign-held acres.

<sup>3</sup> Some states regulate foreign ownership of agricultural land, which may appear inconsistent with AFIDA reported acreage. Note that certain state regulations apply to both long term leases and land purchases, while in other states the restrictions apply only to land purchases. The timing of when state laws were enacted, issues associated with ownership tiers, and other factors may also explain differences.

Land Use

Forty-seven percent of the reported foreign interest holdings of U.S. land are timber or forest, with cropland accounting for 29 percent of the total acres (report 1C). Foreign-held pasture and other agricultural land total 22 percent of all foreign interest holdings in the United States.

The non-agricultural land category, which includes homesteads and roads, accounts for approximately 2 percent of the reported foreign-held acres in the United States. Land use figures should be used with caution because they reflect only information received at the time of processing and do not account for changes in land use that may have occurred subsequently.

County concentrations of foreign holdings of cropland, pasture land, and forest land within the continental United States are shown in Figures 4 through 6.

Trends

Foreign holdings of U.S. agricultural land increased modestly from 2011 through 2015, increasing an average of 0.8 million per year. Since 2015, foreign holdings have increased an average of nearly 2.2 million acres, ranging from 0.8 million acres to 3.3 million acres per year.

The most significant acreage increases between 2011 and 2021 were in forest land, cropland, and pasture (fig. 7). During this time period, forest land increased from roughly 13.8 million to 19.2 million acres, cropland increased from roughly 4.9 million to 11.8 million acres, and pasture land increased from approximately 6.0 million acres to nearly 7.3 million acres. The changes in pasture and cropland are mostly due to foreign-owned wind companies signing, as well as terminating, long-term leases on a large number of acres; however, the acres used by said companies are few due to the small footprint of the wind towers erected on the land.

Impacts of Foreign Investment on the U.S. Agricultural Sector and Rural Economies

To assess the impact of foreign investment on farms and rural economies, changes in agricultural land values and land rental rates were compared across counties with differing characteristics regarding foreign investment in agricultural lands. Both land values and rental rates have implications for farm wealth and access to credit, expenses paid by farm and ranch operators, and land access for beginning farmers and ranchers.

To conduct the analysis, the rate of change in three measures—the per-acre values of agricultural land, the per-acre rental rates for cropland, and the per-acre rental rates for pastureland—were calculated at the county level in a comparison of 2012 and 2017 using data from the National Agricultural Statistical Service’s Census of Agriculture. (The Census of Agriculture is conducted every five years; the most recent data available are for 2017.) In the first two parts of the analysis, the three measures were compared across counties with and without the presence of foreign-owned agricultural lands (Figure 8), and counties that saw increased, decreased, or equal foreign-held agricultural land (Figure 9).

The results of the first analysis (Figure 8) indicate that there are no significant differences in agricultural land value or rental rate changes across counties that have—as opposed to those that do not have—foreign investment in agricultural land. The thin blue lines represent 95% confidence intervals based on t-tests with the p-value in the bottom right corner of each subplot. Traditionally, a p-value must be less than 0.05 for the differences between the samples to be statistically significant.

Note that land values and rental rates in general increased at a five-year rate of 19.4 percent for land values (3.6 percent annually) and roughly 14.6 percent for rental rates (2.8 percent annually).<sup>4</sup> Rates of appreciation are not adjusted for inflation.

For a deeper examination, the analysis was expanded to include categorization by whether foreign ownership increased or not. Four categories were used to group counties by specific characteristics: counties that saw an increase in foreign-owned acreage between 2012 and 2017 (designated by “Gained FO” in Figure 9), those that saw a decrease (“Lost FO”), those that saw no change (and had zero foreign ownership—“No Change (FO = 0)”), and those that saw no change (and had foreign ownership—“No Change (FO > 0)”). The results indicate that there are few consistent patterns (see Figure 9). Only those counties that had increases in foreign ownership saw above-average increases across all the measures. However, the large confidence intervals and relatively high p-values imply that there are no statistically significant differences among any of the different foreign-ownership categories.

As a third analysis, the relationship between state laws prohibiting the foreign ownership of agricultural land were compared at the county level between 2012-2017 using the three variables discussed above (Figure 10). Four mutually exclusive categories were used to characterize state laws using information appearing in Spellman and Brown:<sup>5</sup>

- The ‘Weak Prohibitions’ category includes 294 counties in Georgia, Maryland, New Jersey, and Virginia. While these states ban specific types of foreign ownership of agricultural land, their laws are generally considered so vague as to be unenforceable from a practical standpoint.
- The ‘Mild Prohibitions’ category includes 729 counties in nine states that have the most common types of bans on foreign ownership of agricultural land. These states include Kentucky, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina, and South Dakota.
- The ‘Strong Prohibition’ category refers to 339 counties in Iowa, Kansas, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. Iowa is widely considered to be the state with the strictest prohibitions on foreign ownership of agricultural land, while the other three states have prohibitions that extend beyond agricultural land to include all real estate.

The economic intuition behind why state laws prohibiting the foreign ownership of agricultural land might affect the rate of change of agricultural land values and subsequently rents is important to understand. One possible explanation for the results above—that there is no significant relationship between changes in foreign ownership and changes in land values—is that as foreign demand (and land prices) start increasing in one county, investors simply look for better deals elsewhere and rates of appreciation balance out. However, if there are certain states where foreign investment is prohibited, then one might expect that counties in those states would see smaller agricultural land values increases (and thus rental rate increases) than they would if foreign investors were able to “bid up the price.”

The third analysis again indicates no clear story (Figure 10). In terms of land values, counties in states with mild prohibitions saw the biggest increase, but counties in the four states with weak prohibitions saw the smallest increases. Counties in states with weak prohibitions saw slightly larger increases in cropland rental rates than counties in states with no prohibitions, but the opposite is true for pastureland. Likewise, pastureland rental rates increased more for counties in states with mild or strong prohibitions relative to those in states with weak prohibitions, but again the opposite is true for cropland rental rates. Two results were statistically significant: 1) counties in states with mild prohibitions saw above average increases in agricultural land values, and 2) states with mild or strong prohibitions saw above average increases in pastureland rental rates. This is an interesting result because it is the opposite of what the theory outlined above would predict. Rather than slow the rate of increase, prohibitions lead to statistically significant increases in some cases.

These three analyses indicate that there is neither a consistent nor significant relationship between foreign investment in agricultural land and land values or land rental rates. In certain cases, state-level restrictions on foreign investment in agricultural land correspond with higher increases in agricultural land values or rents, but these results are inconsistent. More research is needed to investigate in greater depth the relationship between state-level restrictions, foreign acquisitions, and changes in agricultural land values and rents.

1/ If only a foreign country is listed, the row represents holdings by individual foreign investors or foreign entities not created in the U.S. If "U.S./foreign country" is listed, the row represents the interests of U.S. corporations with foreign shareholders. To arrive at the total holdings for the foreign country, the two entries must be summed. For example, total holdings by Australian investors are 202,052 plus 23,059, or 225,111 in total.

2/ Value is the actual purchase price or the estimated value at the time of acquisition.

Footnotes:

- 1/ Names were valid at the time the penalty was assessed. The entities receiving a penalty may no longer be foreign-owned, may have sold their land, or may have had a name change. In some cases, the name is abbreviated to reflect multiple subsidiary companies that use a similar root name.
- 2/ The AFIDA statute allows penalties up to but "not [to] exceed 25 percent of the fair market value of the land". In the early 1980s, the penalty formula was reduced downward to allow for significant penalty reductions. This has resulted in penalties, on average, being less than 1 percent of fair market value of the land.
- 3/ A NULL or an empty "PAID DATE" means the paid date is unknown. Penalties are typically paid within 1-2 months of the foreign filer's (or their representative's) receipt of the penalty letter. Entries stating "cancelled" largely reflect two situations: 1) after more information was received, the company was found to not be in a penalty situation; and 2) the initial penalty was cancelled and re-issued under a different name or for other reasons.
- 4/ AFIDA filings are tracked based on the primary country associated with the foreign filing. Currently, AFIDA is a paper-based system. Therefore, there is no practical way of identifying other foreign countries that have an interest in the land going back in time. If the primary foreign country is missing, it is likely no longer in our database. This typically occurs because the land was sold, the entity is no longer foreign, the company name has changed, the person is deceased, the foreign company no longer exists, or the company listed may be associated with multiple subsidiary companies in different locations. "999 - NO PREDOMINANT COUNTRY CODE" is listed when there are multiple countries with an interest in the land and no one company has a dominant share.
- 5/ The "PENALTY COUNTIES/STATES" column indicates "Multiple Counties" if there are more than five counties associated with a particular penalty.

Notes:

Between 2015 and 2018, no penalties were assessed. Program focus was on the annual report and processing filings, which have increased significantly since 2015. Penalties are through 2021. Penalties assessed in 2022 will be available in the 2022 annual report. Any additional requests for AFIDA records can be requested through the FOIA office at SM.FP.FOIA@usda.gov.

ATTORNEY GENERAL GRIFFIN ORDERS DIVESTMENT OF CHINESE-OWNED LAND AND IMPOSES $280,000 CIVIL PENALTY

OCTOBER 17, 2023

LITTLE ROCK – Attorney General Tim Griffin today issued the following statement announcing he is ordering a Chinese state-owned company to divest its ownership of approximately 160 acres of land in Craighead County and imposing a civil penalty of $280,000 for failure to timely report foreign ownership:

“This is the first enforcement action I have taken under the authority granted under Act 636 of 2023 by the General Assembly to ban prohibited foreign entities from owning Arkansas agricultural lands. The land in question is owned by Northrup King Seed Co., a subsidiary of Syngenta Seeds, LLC, which is ultimately owned by China National Chemical Company (ChemChina), a state-owned enterprise.

“I am ordering ChemChina, as a ‘prohibited foreign-party-controlled business’ to divest this land within two years or I will commence an enforcement action in Craighead County circuit court.

“Additionally, as the owner failed to file in a timely manner documents required by Act 1046 of 2021 with the Arkansas Secretary of Agriculture, I am also imposing a civil penalty of $280,000, which represents 25% of the reported fair market value of the property, the maximum civil penalty allowed by law.

“I thank Secretary Wes Ward and the Department of Agriculture for their help in obtaining information to assist my office in determining the ultimate foreign owners of this land in Craighead County. It is this kind of teamwork across state government that will help us all continue to protect the interests of Arkansans for generations to come.”

Background

Under Act 636, state law bars a “prohibited foreign-party-controlled business” from acquiring or holding public or private land in Arkansas either directly or through affiliated parties. Among the definitions of a “prohibited foreign party” in state law are individuals or entities with a connection to a country subject to the federal International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR). The People's Republic of China is subject to ITAR.

In March 2022, Syngenta Seeds, LLC submitted to the United States Department of Agriculture Form 153 regarding the Craighead County property pursuant to the federal Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act (AFIDA), stating that “[u]ltimately, the foreign person that holds indirectly a significant interest in the person owning the land is from China.”

Under Act 1046 of 2021, a foreign person required to file an AFIDA report shall also file a copy of the report to the Arkansas Department of Agriculture “within the time period required under the federal law.”

The Honorable Andy Gipson
Commissioner
State of Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce
121 North Jefferson Street
Jackson, MS 39201

Dear Commissioner Gipson,

The Mississippi Legislature created the Study Committee on Foreign Purchase of Farmland in Mississippi (“Study Committee”) through House Bill 280, 2023 Legislative Session, for the purpose of studying the purchasing, acquiring, leasing, or holding an interest in agricultural land by foreign governments. Among other things, the Study Committee is tasked with studying, “the extent of, and any recent changes, in foreign ownership of energy production, storage or distribution facilities in Mississippi.”<sup>1</sup>

Regulation of public utilities in Mississippi is the prerogative of the State Legislature, which may delegate its regulatory authority to a commission.<sup>2</sup> The Legislature granted the Mississippi Public Service Commission (“Commission”) broad authority to regulate public utilities, bestowing upon the Commission “exclusive original jurisdiction over the intrastate business and property of public utilities.”<sup>3</sup>

In relevant part, public utilities are defined as entities owning or operating equipment or facilities in the state for, “[t]he generation, manufacture, transmission, or distribution of electricity to or for the public for compensation”<sup>4</sup> or “[t]he transmission, sale, sale for resale, or distribution of natural, artificial, or mixed natural or artificial gas to the public for compensation by means of transportation, transmission, or distribution facilities and equipment located within this state.”<sup>5</sup> The Commission does not exercise jurisdiction over municipally owned or operated utilities in the state where the utility is not operating in excess of one mile of its corporate boundaries.<sup>6</sup> Further,

the Commission’s jurisdiction over legislatively-created utility districts and authorities, many of which operate natural gas distribution systems, is limited.<sup>7</sup>

A public utility cannot provide service or construct or acquire facilities without first obtaining a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity (“CPCN”) from the Commission.<sup>8</sup> Further, public utilities cannot sell or otherwise dispose of a CPCN without Commission approval.<sup>9</sup> The Commission issues three types of CPCN, one of which are Certificates to Operate, which provide initial authority to operate a public utility, the type of service to be furnished, the initial facilities to be used, and the initial geographical area to be serve.<sup>10</sup> Another type of CPCN issued by the Commission are Facilities Certificates, which authorize the construction or acquisition of any physical facility or plant used in the operation of a public utility.<sup>11</sup> Lastly, the Commission issues Area Certificates, which allow through petition the establishment and alterations to boundaries of certificated areas upon good cause shown.<sup>12</sup> It is against this framework that the Commission exercises jurisdiction over public utilities in the state.

Energy Production

Mississippi has over three dozen Electric Generating Units (“EGUs”) that utilize nuclear, natural gas, coal or solar as its fuel source. With the exception of the Red Hills Power Plant,<sup>13</sup> these units are owned and operated by Entergy Mississippi, LLC, Mississippi Power Company, Cooperative Energy, the Tennessee Valley Authority, a municipal electric utility, or are cogeneration facilities.

In December 2014, private sector entities began petitioning the Commission for CPCNs to construct and operate solar electric generating facilities in Mississippi.<sup>14</sup> State law provides, that “no public utility or other person shall begin the construction of any facility for the generation and transmission of electricity to be directly or indirectly used for the furnishing of public utility service in this state...without first obtaining” a CPCN from the Commission (emphasis added).<sup>15</sup> In granting CPCNs, the Commission has consistently found that these entities are not public utilities, but rather “other person[s]” within the meaning of Miss. Code Ann. § 77-3-14.<sup>16</sup> To date,

<sup>16</sup> The Mississippi Legislature’s enactment of Miss. Code Ann. § 77-3-14 was driven by the construction of the Grand Gulf Nuclear Station (GGNS) in Claiborne County, Mississippi. GGNS is owned by System Energy Resources, Inc., a subsidiary of Entergy, Corp., and provides power at FERC-approved wholesale rates to various Entergy operating companies and Cooperative Energy. In the late 1990s, early 2000s, the Commission considered and granted numerous Petitions to construct natural gas fired, combustion turbine electric generating facilities by entities that were not public utilities in the State of Mississippi. These facilities are commonly referred to as “Merchant Plants.” In those Orders, the Commission found that the Petitioners were not public utilities; the Commission found that they were an “other

there are roughly 30 existing, under construction, or approved utility-scale solar electric generating facilities in Mississippi and another 10 pending before the Commission.<sup>17</sup>

Because these entities are not public utilities under state law, the statutory prohibition of transferring a CPCN without Commission approval does not exist. The Commission is not aware of any foreign ownership associated with these facilities and does not have jurisdiction to investigate the ultimate ownership of the entities owning and operating these facilities.

The natural gas Local Distribution Companies (“LDCs”) that come under the jurisdiction of the Commission do not produce natural gas, but rather procure the commodity at market. In light of that, the Commission possesses no knowledge of foreign ownership in that sector of energy production.

Energy Distribution

The electric grid and accompanying facilities in the state are owned by numerous entities. At a high level, the electric grid consists of transmission facilities and distribution facilities. For areas of the state served by Entergy Mississippi, LLC, and Mississippi Power Company, the two Investor-Owned Utilities own and operate the transmission and distribution systems.<sup>18</sup> The Tennessee Valley Authority and Cooperative Energy are Generation and Transmission utilities that provide wholesale power supply and transmission service to its member cooperatives. There are 25 Rural Electric Cooperatives in the state that take wholesale power service from either the Tennessee Valley Authority, Cooperative Energy, or Mississippi Power Company; these 25 entities own and operate their respective distribution systems.

The natural gas LDCs that come under the jurisdiction of the Commission own and operate natural gas transmission and distribution infrastructure in the state. These LDCs procure natural gas from market providers and take service off various interstate and intrastate pipelines. While the Commission’s Pipeline Safety Division is responsible for safety compliance inspections and enforcing state and federal pipeline safety regulations for intrastate natural gas pipeline facilities, we do not have jurisdiction over the ultimate ownership of the assets.

Energy Storage

For purposes of the Study Committee’s legislatively tasked directive, Energy Storage facilities in the state owned or proposed by “other persons” are not under the control or jurisdiction of the Commission. The Commission has approved a small utility-scale solar facility, which is owned and operated by Mississippi Power Company.<sup>19</sup> The facility can produce 1.285 megawatts and has battery storage capacity of 5.14 megawatt-hours of electricity.

<sup>18</sup> Entergy Mississippi, LLC, and Mississippi Power Company are considered “vertically integrated”, as they are a single entity that is solely responsible for generating, transmitting, and distributing electricity to their customers.

Study Committee on Foreign Purchase of Farmland

To:farmland <farmland@mdac.ms.gov>

To the Committee, Mr. Caughman, and Mr. Wallace:

Please look at what needs to be done to change the law to prevent foreigners and especially foreign governments from owning Mississippi land. Perhaps a heavy special tax should be instituted on any property owned by foreign entities to encourage them to sell. Should that not do the trick, at least the state will get some benefit from the tax money.

Thanks,

Ray Floyd

These websites are all very nice and fancy, but if you're not familiar with searching for things, it can be frustrating. [I can't help but think our State Legislature purposefully made it NOT user friendly because they would actually rather you NOT bother them. The Honorable Andy Gipson
Commissioner of Mississippi
Dept. of Agriculture and Commerce

September 25,2023

Dear Mr. Gipson ,

After reading the Commissioner's Policy Corner in the latest issue of the Mississippi Market Bulletin, Sept. 15, 2023 , I am appalled to read of the results in finding that foreign Governments own some " 757,000 acres" of Mississippi farmland. I am however, glad that The Study Committee on Foreign Purchase of Farmland in Mississippi has been established to study this and report its findings to the state legislature , where hopefully this matter will be resolved.

As a concerned citizen, and lifelong resident of Attala county and a retired registered Forester with over 53 yrs.experiance in the timber business, I am deeply troubled that foreign interests own or control almost twice the amount of acreage as the total acres in Attala county which is one of our states largest counties. In your report you mention that " some 757,000 acres are controlled by foreign interests ". How in the world did this happen ? I have a few questions:

1. Is there a law or laws on the books , that should have prevented this from happening? If Not, then Why Not?
2. If so , then why hasn't the law been enforced to prevent this from happening, and Who is responsible for enforcing that law . I would assume that the Ms. State Attorney General would be responsible for that.
3. Are the 8 Committee members that have been appointed by politicians or agencies willing to publicly state his or her opinion as to whether or not they believe it is okay for a foreign government or foreign interest to own or control any land in Mississippi?
4. Will all votes taken at committee meetings be made public as to how each member votes on any and all matters concerning this issue?

I am glad that this has been brought to public attention and I look forward to seeing the results that your committee comes forth with on stopping the purchase or control by a foreign government/interest from owning Any land in Mississippi . This should be a No-Brainer !

Thank you for the work that you do.

Sincerely,
Jackie Sprayberry
Retired Forester

Hinds County farmland

Mamie Lilley

Fri 9/29/2023 3:47 PM

To:farmland <farmland@mdac.ms.gov>

I am deeply concerned that Hinds County land is being leased, possibly sold, to a foreign limited liability company, Hinds Solar, LLC. This company is currently planning to build a solar farm on over 2,000 acres in north Hinds County. The “parent company” of this group has already been fined over a million dollars for EPA violations.

The property mentioned above is within three miles of my home. My husband’s family has lived and farmed here in north Hinds County since approximately 1880. The land in this area, and specifically the land where the solar farm is planning to build, is rolling hills with natural groves of trees and numerous native plants and animals. That land will have to be flattened, trees removed, and grasses and native plants killed with herbicide in order to build the solar farm. This change of the natural landscape will likely destroy/disrupt the natural habitat of numerous animals. There is likely to be an impact on nearby creeks and ponds as well, meaning any harmful chemicals used in the building and upkeep of the solar farm could impact all who live in the surrounding area, including the animals we raise for our livelihood.

I am concerned about the possible impact on the land and our health, especially considering this company’s past history. Moreover, I am deeply concerned that any foreign entity would be allowed to purchase land, not only in Mississippi but in the entire US.

Respectfully,

Mamie Lilley
Jackson, MS

Mississippians can’t buy ag land in the Netherlands or most provinces in Canada with unless they buy only 10 acre in one province. One province has a 20 acre limit. One has a 40 acre limit. One province allows none. One province allows ownership if the foreigner lives in Cannada at least 183 days in each year. I have a friend whose client tried unsuccessfully to buy some ag land in Cannada. So isn't it foolish to let them buy our land? Please end this foolish one-sided open border policy.

Recently I've read articles in national newspapers about foreign acquisition of land/property in the US, specifically the Chinese. I never thought about it being an issue in Mississippi. My Attala County property has been in our family since the mid-1900s and for years was a dairy farm. Today, I'm growing trees. I honestly don't know what effect, if any, foreign ownership has on me personally but I'm glad someone has been commissioned to study it.

Securing Mississippi's land—America's land—is not a partisan issue.

Received 10/16/2022

Testimony on behalf of America First Policy Institute's China Policy Initiative

Chair Steve Yates and Director Adam Savit

Mississippi's agricultural land is a strategic asset that provides food security and independence to the U.S., and Mississippi farmers are an essential part of the Nation's fabric. Mississippi has approximately 34,700 farms that cover 10.4 million acres and employ 17.4% of the state's workforce, and its crops, including poultry, eggs, soybeans, corn, and cotton, contribute \$9.72 billion to the country's economy and support communities throughout the state.

Agriculture also offers a way for communities to build and maintain strong relationships. Many farmers are deeply rooted in their communities and take pride in their work. Mississippi is home to a vibrant agricultural community that has existed for generations. As a result, there is a strong sense of pride among farmers, who continue to work tirelessly to provide quality products for their customers. Mississippi farmers, including those who appear at farmers' markets and roadside stands, are a vital part of the state's culture.

However, Mississippi agricultural land faces a significant threat. Mississippians must be vigilant because foreign adversaries own a significant amount of U.S. agricultural land. Allied countries, such as Canada, the Netherlands, and Italy, hold large tracts of U.S. land, which does not necessarily impact our national security. On the other hand, countries with adversarial governments that spread malign influence at all levels of our society to undermine us, should not be allowed to acquire it.

The Chinese Communist Party (CCP) is positioning China as an adversary of the U.S., politically and economically, with the stated intention of overtaking us. Securing and dominating world food supply chains is an integral part of China's Belt and Road Initiative, which also promotes hoarding computer chips, minerals, and other sensitive commodities. According to U.S. Department of Agriculture reports, Chinese investors' holdings of U.S. agricultural land surged from 13,720 acres in 2010 to 352,140 acres in 2020—a stunning 5,300% increase. In total, this land is worth approximately \$1.9 billion. The average U.S. farm is 445 acres, so nearly 800 American families could farm this acreage that is now controlled by Chinese investors. Nearly all Chinese citizens with the ability to make such an investment have direct ties to the Chinese Communist Party or are working in their interest, either voluntarily or through means of coercion.

Why would we allow our enemy to own and control the most valuable resource in the world? Throughout history, wars have been fought and lives have been lost over the control of land and resources. This is a national security issue and food security issue, and we owe it to our children and grandchildren to fix this issue now.

Preventing CCP control of U.S. agricultural land is possible through legislative action and has stood up to constitutional muster. In 2023, at least seven states, including Arkansas, Florida, Montana, North Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, and Utah, have enacted laws effectively preventing the CCP from controlling agricultural land. At least 15 others, including Mississippi, introduced legislation in the 2023 session.

Securing Mississippi's land—America's land—is not a partisan issue. Every American should be concerned about securing our food supply from threats to America. In August 2022, the Democrat-supermajority California legislature passed the Food and Farm Security Act, which would have prohibited foreign governments from purchasing, acquiring, leasing, or holding agricultural land. However, the California Governor refused to sign the legislation, so it never became law.

We are not required to allow any foreign interest to control our agricultural land, especially those with proven malign intent. The CCP poses a unique threat to our civil society, including our precious land resources and food supply. Furthermore, American citizens are barred from owning land in China. This glaring lack of reciprocity alone is reason to block their access until we are accorded an equivalent privilege in their country.

The best way to secure our Nation is through economic prosperity. Therefore, we must fortify our supply chains and ensure national self-reliance to marginalize the CCP and its strategies to subvert us. Mississippi should lead the way in this mission by banning the CCP and its subsidiaries from controlling the agricultural land rightfully belonging to our citizens.

MFA Comments to the Foreign Purchase of Farmland Study Committee

Casey Anderson

Tue 10/17/2023 8:07 PM

To:farmland <farmland@mdac.ms.gov>

The Mississippi Forestry Association is the only statewide non-profit organization dedicated to sustaining Mississippi's forests. Founded in 1938, MFA seeks to unify members of the forestry community. We do this through public affairs, communications, and education programs that promote conservation, development, and wise use of forestland and resources.

Mississippi timberlands owned and managed by corporate entities such as publicly traded real estate investment trusts (REIT) and timberland investment management organizations (TIMOS) attract investment from a variety of shareholders and clients, including people, pensions, and endowments in countries that are long-standing allies and friends of the United States, such as Canada, the United Kingdom, New Zealand, the European Union, Japan, and South Korea. Investment from friendly nations drives the value of Mississippi and U.S. timberlands and their downstream benefits. These investments keep U.S. forests working and provide rural communities with good jobs, recreational opportunities, clean air, and water. Moreover, these forests support logging, manufacturing, trucking, rail and shipping transport, and other important supply chain components. We worry about the unintentional effects of excessive regulations on foreign ownership, particularly regarding investment from friendly nations. If REITs and TIMOs cannot function in Mississippi, it will harm employment, the market value of timberlands, and the economic and societal benefits to many of Mississippi's rural communities.

Foreign owners of forests in Mississippi share Mississippi values. They understand the important economic value of their forests to Mississippi. They value the clean air, clean water, wildlife habitat, and recreational opportunities their forests provide. They understand the nature of forest ownership, that a tree planted today may not be harvested for 30 years or more, so they view investment in forests as long-term. Restrictions on foreign ownership by countries and citizens that are friends and allies of the U.S. will decrease the overall market value of timberland and result in job losses within the forestry industry. Such disruptions could negatively affect many Mississippians and their families who rely on this industry for employment. Additionally, smaller communities in Mississippi heavily depend on the forests around them as a vital component of their local economies. More importantly, limiting or prohibiting foreign investment in forests by countries that are U.S. allies and friends will have the unintended consequences of loss of forests to other uses, mill closures, and loss of a significant economic driver to our state's economy.

Foreign owners are also investing in manufacturing facilities in Mississippi that use wood from all Mississippi landowners. Given that Mississippi has a surplus of wood, we grow more than we harvest on an annual basis, restrictions on investment in foreign-owned manufacturing facilities could deter expansion of current or construction of new manufacturing facilities that utilize wood.

We understand the charge of the committee and want to ensure the importance of foreign investment by pensions, endowments, companies, or individuals from countries that are long-standing allies and friends is recognized. It is important to fully understand the unintended consequences of limiting foreign investment and ownership in Mississippi's forestry community and the negative impact it could have on rural economies.

Sincerely,

Casey Anderson

Mr. Gibson

I wanted to voice my concerns about the sale of our farmland to foreign buyers. I was a farmer for 13 years, chickens and cattle. I lost my farm due to the deck being stacked against farmers by the crooked banks and integrators (I have the proof to back up my claim). It's a sad day when American citizens can't keep their farms but foreign entities can come in and buy them up with special loans and other incentives. If this is allowed to continue in our country we will be at the mercy of other countries that long for our demise. Thank you

Southern Crop Production Association (SCPA) is a regional not-for-profit trade association representing pesticide registrants, agricultural retailers and distributors who supply farmers and ranchers with products and services. SCPA's membership is comprised of over 50 member companies involved in the research and development, manufacturing, and sale of agricultural inputs including crop protection products, seeds, traits and biotechnology, seed treatments and biologics in sixteen southern states. I must say that while I am for free commerce, I do not think that allowing hostile nations or other entities to own property in Mississippi is a wise decision. Therefore, please note that I am wholly OPPOSED to allowing hostile nations to own property in Mississippi and trust that you all will do everything in your power to prevent this from occurring.

No foreign government or company should be buying American farmland. This is a matter of national security for many reasons--first, they will control our food supply and second, they have more and more bases from which to plan attacks or create viruses or other poisons to kill Americans. With millions of foreigners--including MANY Chinese now flooding our Southern border--we are ripe for an attack INSIDE our country. Why should we put our people at risk? China is a KNOWN enemy to our country so this is insane to let them in.

Stop people from buying our land and make them sell back what they have bought. Follow Arkansas' example. It is time to step up and protect AMERICANS for a change.

To whom it may concern,

It has been brought to my attention that foreign entities are purchasing farm and Ag land in Mississippi. I am against any foreign entity or agent for a foreign entity, owning or purchasing land in Mississippi. If the state continues to allow transactions that violate the state constitution by a foreign entity or agent to purchase land the tax basis will be raised as land values increase causing the cost of land ownership to rise for owners of land that reside here. I am fine with anyone homesteading a piece of property that they individually own, but to allow corporations or LLCs to come over and purchase land that would be passed down to future locally owned generations, would be a sad disgrace to anyone that has worked so hard to allow the fine Mississippi citizens to own the property.

Dear Commissioner Gipson and Committee,

It is with sincerest hopes that your study findings protect American/Mississippi ownership of farmlands in our state! As a citizen of this fine state, I personally believe that both local ownership and/or American ownership of our lands will better protect our state and national interests. Too often lately one reads of corporate purchases of farmlands by foreign entities!

Food and its availability are deep concerns for the future, especially with international and federal government plans to control more and more lands by conserving their use, thus taking away farming privileges. To sell our Mississippi lands to non-American interests, in my opinion, will further probably remove individual ownership rights and perhaps jeopardize the optimal use of the land for the people's good interest.

While I own no farmland, I greatly respect our farmers' efforts to keep a fading livelihood afloat! The struggle for them is great! We need to support them as much as possible. I especially thank the Commissioner for his great efforts and those of his department, and congratulate him on his reelection.

May God bless your efforts for the farmers and their Mississippi farmland! Amen.

Yours sincerely,
Carolyn Nause Howard

Chairman Commissioner Andy Gipson,

We are opposed to other countries purchasing any land close to or around our military bases and our military ship building facility. There are also security risk for some of our businesses as proprietary product information can be obtained. We do recognize the importance of some economic relationships with the Netherlands and other friendly countries. Our main concern is intellectual & military information being available to hostile countries. We trust that this committee will protect our food sources as we move through troubled times.

As a resident of Rankin County Mississippi, I want to voice my opinion about Foreign Countries coming in and buying up our farmlands. I am strongly against them doing this! I understand that the Netherlands is the largest landowner in Mississippi and I think that is just HORRIBLE! How and when did that happen? I am all for our farmers exporting all of their products to other countries, but I want our farmlands to continue to be owned by the residents of Mississippi ONLY! We know that Foreign Countries are trying to buy up as much of our US soil that they can and we must prevent this from happening!

I hope the study committee will make clear decisions when it comes to our MS farmlands.

Thank you,

APPENDIX G

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND COMMERCE

ANDY GIPSON
COMMISSIONER

November 9, 2023

Lieutenant Governor Delbert Hosemann
and Members of the Mississippi State Senate

Speaker Philip Gunn
and Members of the Mississippi House of Representatives

Re: Assessment of the Impact of Recent Changes in Foreign Ownership of Mississippi's Agricultural Land, Water, and Food Security

Pursuant to Section 1(5)(g) of House Bill 280, Regular Session, the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce is required to provide an assessment of the impact of recent changes in foreign ownership of agricultural land, water and food security. Accordingly, I am providing this letter in fulfillment of the requirements of such assessment.

Concurrent with this assessment, the Foreign Purchase of Farmland Study Committee is submitting a detailed report regarding recent changes in ownership of Mississippi farmland. According to the findings of the Study Committee, as of 2021 at least 777,176 acres of land as reported by USDA within the State of Mississippi is held by foreign interests, totaling 2.6% of the State's total acreage. This was an increase from 618,752 acres in 2011. In other words over the preceding ten (10) years at least 151,408 additional acres have been acquired by foreign interests with practically no oversight and no enforcement of Mississippi's Constitution and existing statutory laws designed to generally prohibit such acquisitions. See Mississippi Constitution Article IV, Section 84 and Miss. Code Ann. §§ 89-1-23 and 29-1-75.

The report also indicates that 757,816 acres of agricultural land in Mississippi was held by foreign interests, or 2.5% of the total agricultural acres in the State. This is an increase from 600,456 acres in 2011 (2.0%). Review of these figures demonstrates that the majority of recent foreign purchases of Mississippi farm and forest land were in fact agricultural acres. Regarding known uses of the 2021 reported foreign-controlled agricultural acres, the following acres were reported: 177,139 acres in cropland, 11,060 acres in pasture, 550,265 acres in forest land and 19,352 acres in "other" agricultural use.

The legislation also requests consideration of the impact of foreign ownership of Mississippi water. Under Mississippi law, water rights generally run with the owner of the land.

Additionally, water, whether occurring on the surface of the ground or underneath the surface of the ground, has been declared by Mississippi statute to be among the basic resources of this State, belonging to the people of Mississippi and subject to certain permitting regulations by the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality. See Miss. Code Ann. § 51-3-1 et seq. The Foreign Purchase of Farmland Committee Report indicates that as of today, MDEQ does not track and therefore has no information on whether these foreign interests may be tapping our State's invaluable water resources. Particularly during a time of record-breaking drought, this is deeply concerning.

On the subject of food security, it should go without saying that Mississippi's farmland, coupled with our water resources form the very basis of our State's food production and therefore our food security. These resources should never be allowed to fall into the hands of our foreign adversaries. I believe this is the very reason the framers of our State Constitution included Section 84, and also the reason the Legislature of years past enacted current statutes generally prohibiting ownership of land by "nonresident aliens." Unfortunately, neither the Constitution nor the laws of Mississippi have been enforced to-date. Because of the ease foreign interests now have in forming "shell" Mississippi corporations or "shell" Mississippi limited liability companies, foreign interests have been able to hide "under the shell" the true nature of the purchasers from sellers. I have no doubt that many landowners are shocked to learn after the fact that the land their parents or grandparents once purchased and toiled upon is now controlled by foreign interests.

I am deeply concerned by the dramatic increase in foreign ownership of Mississippi's most valuable asset, our farmland. My concern has a threefold basis:

- (1) A very large number of prior acquisitions of Mississippi farmland have been made by foreign interests without any compliance with Mississippi's constitutional and statutory provisions designed to generally prohibit foreign ownership;
- (2) In recent years these foreign interests (including potentially certain adversarial foreign interests) have increased their purchases of Mississippi farmland; and
- (3) It is obvious that land - especially farmland - under the control of foreign interests is no longer under the control of the American people nor the people of the State of Mississippi.

The Revolutionary War by which our Founders gained independence was fought and won on the issue of who would have the right to control the soil of these United States of America. This principle is reflected in our State Constitution, Article IV, Section 84. Indeed, wars are fought and won around the world for the purpose of determining who will control the land and food production of any given territory. The fact that adversarial foreign governments and foreign interests have been able to do by monetary transaction what would normally be done by military conquest should give every legislator and every citizen in this State a jolting wake-up call.

Food security is expected to be the greatest issue that Americans, Mississippians and the world will face over the coming decades. The 2023 drought situation and ongoing conflicts in Ukraine and in the Middle East are already having a negative impact on our food production for our people and for the rest of the world. Put simply, food security is national security. America's strength as a nation is rooted in our nation's ability to produce abundant and affordable food, fiber and shelter, and to the extent that ability is sacrificed for the sake of monetary gain or political correctness, the strength of American agriculture will certainly suffer. While it may not be feasible to address every preexisting transaction by these foreign interests, it is certainly feasible and necessary that the Legislature act now on a going forward basis to make certain that the enemies of America will not control this Nation's or this State's food, fiber and shelter production.

Our Mississippi farmland is our most valuable asset as a State for many reasons. For one, agriculture represents the largest sector of Mississippi's economy and at the same time the largest employer within the State of Mississippi. Knowing today that 2.6% of our farm and forest production may be controlled by foreign interests and/or adversarial governments compels me to urge our Legislature to act immediately and as soon as possible during the 2024 Legislative session. Failure to act to provide for enforcement of our existing laws or failure to enact clearer laws with a workable enforcement mechanism would be an open invitation to America's enemies to continue their foreign controlled land grab of Mississippi's greatest asset. There is no reason to delay action, no reason to wait on Congress to act. This is a State issue and the State Legislature can and should resolve it.

That is why the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce's assessment of these changes in foreign ownership of our farmland is to highlight these very real threats to the strength of our State and Nation's food production, water resources and food security. I strongly encourage the Legislature to act with all deliberate speed to protect the people of Mississippi and the strength of our State's most significant economic sector, Mississippi Agriculture.

Thank you for your consideration and as always, I am available to provide any other information you may deem necessary or appropriate. Thank you for your service to the people of Mississippi.

Sincerely,

Andy Gipson
Commissioner
