Mississippi Beekeepers Consider 2018 Issues

By Linda Breazeale
MSU Extension Service

Healthy hives, consumer demand and crops for pollination are issues demanding beekeepers' attention in 2018.

Jeff Harris, a bee specialist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service, said bees are doing better than some reports might suggest.

"The people monitoring bee health suggest that commercial bee health is improving, and losses are declining," Harris said. "The worst problem we've seen began 25 years ago with the varroa mite, which we are still addressing."

Johnny Thompson, president of Mississippi Beekeepers Association, said producers are anxious for researchers to develop new products for the battle with varroa mites.

"If mites become resistant to our current chemicals, we will be in trouble," he said.

On March 14, the U.S. Department of Agriculture released the Mississippi honey report. The National Agricultural Statistics Service estimated Mississippi producers with five or more colonies yielded 1.04 million pounds of honey in 2017, a 36 percent decrease from 2016.

Thompson said that before 2017, the five-year state average was about 1.6 million pounds. Five years ago, Mississippi produced right at 2 million pounds of honey.

Based on results of the bee and honey survey, the report indicated 13,000 honey-producing colonies in the state, down by 6,000 from the previous year. The report indicated that producers' honey stocks in December were 83,000 pounds, down 27 percent from 2016.

Thompson said he believes most of the larger producers actually added more colonies.

"Most producers are adding colonies, but production is still going down," he said. "2017 was one of our worst years in several years. Rains last spring hurt tremendously. Summer wasn't great, but conditions rebounded in the fall."

Thompson said bee producers could not make a living just on honey production.

"Our larger producers drive the state's industry through pollination services, not honey, especially as they serve California's almond industry," he said. "They have pollination contracts to take bees to California in February for the almond crop, which supplements their honey profits."

Harris said the U.S. imports large amounts of honey every year, and those cheap imports have hurt locally produced products.

"We have had problems with adulterations from other countries, like Brazil and China. Honey packers may blend imported products with U.S. honey," Harris said. "Local honey can help with some allergy issues, but not with all. To improve chances for benefits, honey should be produced from the location where you live and during the season when your allergies flare up."

Harris said spring honeys are clearer, and they darken as the year progresses. Honey lovers often prefer different flavors based on the season.

Honey - Nature's Sweetener

Honeyed Party Mix

4 cups rice, corn or wheat cereal squares
4 cups small pretzel twists or sticks
2 cups roasted mixed nuts
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
1/2 cup honey

Combine cereal, pretzels, and nuts in a 9x13x2-inch baking pan. Combine butter and honey; pour over all of the mix, tossing lightly to coat evenly. Bake at 350 degrees F 45-50 minutes, stirring frequently, or until crispy and caramelized. Store tightly covered. Tip: For honey-spiced party mix, add 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg to butter mixture before cooking. Makes 2 1/2 quarts.

Honeyed Party Mix

1/4 cup onions, chopped
1/4 cup celery, chopped
1/4 cup carrots, grated
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 pound ground turkey or beef
1/2 cup tomato paste
1/4 cup honey
3 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder
4 hamburger buns
Salt and pepper, to taste

In a large pan over medium heat, sauté onions, celery and carrots in oil until soft. Stir in ground turkey or beef; cook five minutes, stirring frequently, until browned and crumbly. Stir in remaining ingredients, except seasonings and hamburger buns. Simmer, covered, three to five minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Divide mixture evenly between hamburger buns to serve. Makes four servings.

Honey Watermelon Crush

16 ounces watermelon, diced
16 ounces seedless watermelon, small cubes
10 ounces cucumber
6 mint leaves
4 tablespoons honey
16 ounces ice
2 sprigs of mint for garnish

Place the diced watermelon, cucumber, mint leaves, honey and ice in a blender and blend on high until you receive a smooth consistency. To serve, place the small cubes of watermelon into a glass, and then pour the blended juice over the cubed watermelon. Slightly stir and serve with a small spoon. Garnish with a sprig of mint. Yield: One quart.

Honey Nut Breakfast Grits

2 cups fat-free milk
1 cup water
1 cup stone ground grits
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon unsalted butter
1/4 cup almond slivers, toasted
1/8 teaspoon almond extract
4 teaspoons honey

In a large pot, add milk, water, grits and salt; bring to a boil. Mix in two tablespoons honey and butter; reduce to a simmer and cook about 20 minutes or until grits thicken. While grits are cooking, toast almonds in a frying pan over medium heat, stirring often, for about eight to ten minutes or until they are lightly browned. Remove grits from heat and mix in almond extract. Ladle into four bowls; top each with one tablespoon toasted almonds and one teaspoon honey. Makes four servings.

Savory Honey Muffins on the Move

3/4 cup low-fat milk
4 tablespoons butter, melted
2 eggs
1/4 cup honey
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons chopped chives
3/4 cup shredded Gruyere cheese, reserving 1/4 cup

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Line eight cups of a muffin tin with paper liners (or coat with non-stick cooking spray). Whisk together the milk, butter, eggs, and honey in a large mixing bowl. Stir in the flour, baking powder, salt, chives, and cheese, setting aside 1/4 cup of Gruyere for sprinkling on top of muffins. Divide the batter evenly among the cups, filling each three-quarters full. Bake muffins for 20-25 minutes, until golden on top and remove from oven. Sprinkle remaining Gruyere cheese over tops. Turn oven to broil and broil muffins for another two to three minutes until cheese is melted and lightly browned. Yield: Eight muffins.

MDAC Releases Question & Answer Guide on Auxin Herbicide Compliance

By Laura Vollar
Deputy Director
Bureau of Plant Industry - MDAC

The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC) released a guide to help answer questions pertaining to auxin containing herbicides intended for in-crop use on 2,4-D or dicamba-tolerant cotton and soybeans.

The Question & Answer guide provides direction on purchasing and addresses new label requirements for the use of these auxin herbicides during the 2018 growing season. The information guide also provides guidance on the Dicamba/2,4-D

Herbicide Technology Training and Dicamba Applicator Training.

To access the fact sheet, visit www.mdac.ms.gov – Alerts and Announcements – Auxin Herbicides: How to Comply in Mississippi. You may also contact the main office at (662) 325-3390 for further information.

Auxin Herbicides: How to Comply in Mississippi

This Question & Answer document provides guidance for purchasing and complying with new federal label requirements for the use of auxin specific herbicides for the 2018 growing season.

Step 1 – To Purchase

What do I need to purchase auxin containing herbicides for in-crop use for the 2018 growing season?

- ✓ You must have active pesticide certification.
- ✓ Complete the one-time Dicamba/2,4-D herbicide training, if you did not complete in 2017.
 - Training may be accessed at <http://www.auxintraining.com> - Dicamba/2,4-D Herbicide Technology Training (Required for purchase)
 - After successful completion, individuals receive email verification from the MDAC and endorsement on their pesticide certification.

Step 2 – To Apply

Applicators who plan to physically apply the dicamba herbicides (XtendiMax, FeXapan and Engenia) must undergo NEW label required annual applicator training. This training was recently imposed due to label changes by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

What are the new Federal label changes for XtendiMax, FeXapan and Engenia for 2018?

- ✓ All 3 products are Federal Restricted Use
- ✓ Annual applicator training
 - Training may be accessed at <http://www.auxintraining.com> - Dicamba Applicator Training
 - After successful completion, individuals will receive a notice of completion and must retain for 2 years.
- ✓ Robust record-keeping requirements
- ✓ Restrictions to wind speeds and application times
- ✓ Tank clean-out
- ✓ Susceptible crop language

What is required if I did not complete the Dicamba/2,4-D Herbicide Technology Training (Required for purchase) in 2017, but I am purchasing and physically applying XtendiMax, FeXapan and Engenia for the 2018 growing season?

- ✓ Completion of the Dicamba/2,4-D Herbicide Technology Training (Required for purchase) will be accepted by MDAC to cover individuals for both purchase and application in 2018.

What is required if I completed the Dicamba/2,4-D Herbicide Technology Training (Required for purchase) in 2017 and I am physically applying XtendiMax, FeXapan and Engenia for the 2018 growing season?

- ✓ Dicamba Applicator Training must be completed in order to fulfill the NEW federal label requirements for annual training.

What is required if I completed the Dicamba/2,4-D Herbicide Technology Training (Required for purchase), but I am NOT the individual making the physical application of XtendiMax, FeXapan and Engenia?

- ✓ Those individual(s) you are supervising are required to complete the annual Dicamba Applicator Training.

Are there any other auxin training courses I can take to fulfill these requirements?

- ✓ No, only the Dicamba/2,4-D Herbicide Technology Training (Required for purchase) and Dicamba Applicator Training provided by Mississippi State University – Extension Service has been approved by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture & Commerce.

MSU Schedules Forage Field Day

By Mr. Robert Nathan Gregory
MSU Extension Service

An afternoon field day will help livestock producers learn about the latest research related to forage production.

The Mississippi State University Extension Service and Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station are hosting the Coastal Plain Forage Production Field Day April 5. The free workshop will be held at the Coastal Plain Branch Experiment Station in Newton.

Topics for this year's workshop include alfalfa research, forage economics, early-season weed control, fescue in the Coastal Plain and native warm-season grass grazing.

The field day begins at 2 p.m. with a tour of the fields at the experiment station. A catered catfish dinner will be provided.

The experiment station is located at 51 Coastal Plain Road in Newton. The registration deadline is March 29. To register, contact Jenna Mosley at 601-683-2084 or jlt205@msstate.edu.

MDAC Accepting Applications for the Specialty Crop Block Grant

By Paige Manning
Director of Marketing and Public Relations - MDAC

Commissioner Cindy Hyde-Smith announced the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC) is now accepting FY 2018 proposals for the Specialty Crop Block Grant Program.

The Specialty Crop Block Grant Program is funded by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) and authorized by the Farm, Food, and Jobs Bill (Farm Bill). The purpose of the program is to solely enhance the competitiveness of Mississippi's specialty crop industry. Specialty crops are defined as fruits and vegetables, tree nuts, dried fruits, horticulture and nursery crops (including floriculture).

Projects funded through this program must address at least one of the following priority areas: research and development; promotion/marketing; or education/extension. Funding will not be awarded to projects that solely benefit a particular commercial product or provide a profit to a single organization, institution or individual. Applications must be submitted to MDAC by April 10, 2018. To obtain an application, visit the Alerts and Announcements section at www.mdac.ms.gov, call (601) 359-1196, or email susan@mdac.ms.gov.

MDAC Continues to Assist Landowners with Cogongrass Control

By Laura Vollar
Deputy Director
Bureau of Plant Industry - MDAC

Cogongrass, Imperata cylindrica, ranks as the world's seventh worst noxious weed and currently infests over 1.2 billion acres worldwide. Cogongrass has been detected in 66 of Mississippi's 82 counties. The southern region of Mississippi has seen the worst infestation of this invasive weed, but Cogongrass has also spread into the central and north central parts of the state.

Cogongrass Control Demonstration Program

The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC)/Bureau of Plant Industry (BPI) continues to assist landowners in combating this noxious weed through its Control Demonstration Program. Through this program, MDAC provides herbicide to landowners in Mississippi at no charge. MDAC also provides treatment guidelines and spray options on how and when to apply the herbicide. MDAC staff participates in local meetings, training landowners and the general public on the identification of Cogongrass.

Landowners detecting Cogongrass on their property can apply to participate by submitting an application to BPI. The application can be found on the MDAC website at http://www.mdac.ms.gov/wp-content/uploads/bpi_plant_cogongrass.pdf, at your local Mississippi State University Extension Service office or your local USDA Natural Resource Conservation Service office. Once the application is received, BPI will send an inspector to confirm the presence of Cogongrass and the extent of the infestation. The inspector will provide hands-on training on identification and the proper use of herbicides to control Cogongrass. After accessing the infestation and training, the inspector will return to confirm the herbicide has been applied and observe the degree of control.

The Bureau of Plant Industry began participating in this program in 2003, which has helped approximately 4,955 Mississippi landowners treat over 32,263 acres of Cogongrass. The goal of the program is to educate landowners and the general public, while providing herbicide to assist with Cogongrass outbreaks.

Impact of Cogongrass on the Environment

The need to combat Cogongrass in a timely manner is important because it can quickly impact the environment around it.

Cogongrass produces a dense mass of rhizomes that are more than 60% of the plants total biomass. The rhizomes and roots release a chemical into the soil that inhibits the growth of surrounding plants, thereby suppressing all other plants. Cogongrass also produces 80 to 90 stems per square foot with leaves that are 6 to 47 inches tall with dense off-center midribs.

Cogongrass quickly invades areas of low management like abandoned fields, highway rights of way, utility rights of way, and commercial forest plantations by means of seed disbursement and movement of rhizomes. In late spring or early summer, Cogongrass can produce up to 3,000 wind dispersed seeds that are much like dandelion seeds. Natural disasters such as hurricanes, tornados and floods can carry the seeds for hundreds of miles. Also, rhizomes and seeds can be spread by contaminated equipment used for rights of way maintenance, logging, fire control and construction. Contaminated plant material such as landscaping material and sod can become carriers.

Economically, Cogongrass impacts the forest industry by choking out newly planted seedlings. Cogongrass is also considered a fire hazard which burns vigorously at over 800° F. This will mortally wound trees or stress the trees making them susceptible to insects, thereby impacting the value of land.

Cogongrass has several common names such as Japanese Blood Grass, Red Baron Grass, and Spreargrass which are often offered for sale on the internet as ornamental grasses. Cogongrass is listed as a regulated noxious weed on the Mississippi Noxious Weed List, which prohibits the sale and movement of the weed.

Mississippi Fair Commission Breaks Ground on the New Mississippi Trade Mart

By Alex Lowery
Communications &
Marketing Specialist - MDAC

The Mississippi Fair Commission broke ground on the new Mississippi Trade Mart. Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Cindy Hyde-Smith presided over the ceremony and gave a keynote address, explaining the economic impact a new Trade Mart will have on the City of Jackson and the state, as well as thanking those who helped her move the project forward. Governor Phil Bryant and Speaker of the House of Representatives Philip Gunn provided remarks during the ceremony and assisted members of the Mississippi Fair Commission and Hyde-Smith in breaking ground on the construction site.

"The Mississippi State Fairgrounds attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors each year from all across Mississippi and throughout the country and serves as one of the largest economic drivers in the City of Jackson," Hyde-Smith said. "When people come here for events, many spend money staying overnight in local hotels, dining at restaurants in the area, and shopping in retail stores, which is generating additional revenue for local businesses."

The Trade Mart is the hub for much of the activity that takes place on the Fairgrounds and is booked for events 48 of the 52 weekends a year. Around 200,000 visitors walk through its doors each year attending one of nearly 80 events that are hosted there.

"One of my top priorities since becoming Commissioner has been to improve the over 100-acre State Fairgrounds complex and its facilities," Hyde-Smith said. "I am grateful to the Mississippi Legislature for authorizing $30 million to build a new Trade Mart and to make improvements to the Mississippi Fairgrounds."

This investment in a new Trade Mart will provide a facility that offers services, conveniences and amenities that will attract new businesses and groups to the Mississippi Fairgrounds. The new Trade Mart will be attached to the Mississippi Coliseum, which will make the facility more marketable for hosting a wide array of events. The existing Trade Mart, built in 1975, has exceeded its useful life and is not economically feasible to renovate.

"Much time and research went into the planning and design of the new 109,000 square foot facility," Hyde-Smith said. "Valuable input was gathered from our customers to ensure that the new facility will meet their needs and expectations in the future. The enhanced features of the new facility like the café and commercial kitchen will better accommodate our customers and our visitors."

The new Trade Mart was designed by Wier Boerner Allin Architecture, and Fountain Construction is the general contractor. Construction is expected to take approximately 18 months. The current Trade Mart will continue to operate until construction on the new Trade Mart is complete.

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Cindy Hyde-Smith (sixth from the left) and the Mississippi Fair Commission broke ground on the new Mississippi Trade Mart. Assisting with the groundbreaking were Jean Massey (left), Vocational Education Director for the Mississippi Department of Education; Paul Smith; Mayor for the City of Jackson Chokwe Antar Lumumba; Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann; Governor Phil Bryant; Speaker of the House of Representatives Philip Gunn; State Auditor Stacey Pickering; Commissioner of Insurance and State Fire Marshal Mike Chaney; Glenn McCullough, Executive Director of the Mississippi Development Authority; and Dr. Gary Jackson, Director of the Mississippi State University Extension Service.
