With Fall Comes the 158th Mississippi State Fair

By Alex Jacks

As the traditional scents of pumpkin spice, nutmeg and cinnamon begin to waft in on the fall breeze in Mississippi, the chilly air also brings a set of aromas that can only be found 12 days out of the year. The smell of freshly bathed livestock packed in a show barn combined with the sticky, sweetness of a deep fried Oreo can only mean one thing. The 158th Mississippi State Fair is here!

Since its inception in 1859, the Mississippi State Fair has served as a way for farmers to exhibit superior livestock, share agriculture practices and discuss crop equipment to improve operation efficiency. The first recorded fairs in Mississippi began as livestock shows in the 1830s, where farmers brought their best animals to compete for a prize, Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce and Chairman of the Mississippi Fair Commission Cindy Hyde-Smith said.

The Mississippi State Fair runs Wednesday, October 4 through Sunday, October 15, as daily entertainment and activities take place in the Trade Mart, the Kirk Fordice Equine Center, and all along the 105 acres of the Mississippi Fairgrounds Complex in Jackson.

"When it comes to raising livestock, people tend to be naturally competitive," she said. "Mississippi's early farmers needed a place where they could show off their cows, goats and pigs to other people in the state. The need for a meeting place is how the livestock show and fair was created."

Even as other forms of entertainment, exhibits and competitions were added, livestock exhibitions continued to draw the largest crowds, which still holds true today. Every year, youth from 4-H and FFA groups throughout Mississippi travel to Jackson to exhibit in the junior livestock shows.

In addition to promoting agriculture, the Mississippi State Fair has always been a supporter of wholesome, family fun. One tradition that drives families to the fair each year is the Mile Long Midway, where many of those delectable and familiar smells can be found. The Midway promises not to disappoint with a selection of thriller-seeking rides and yummy foods.

This year, the kid zone will be sporting some new changes and additions, according to Mississippi Fair Commission Executive Director Rick Reno. The new activities include the Sea Lion Splash and Fetch-N-Fish which will both teach children about different animals while incorporating other educational concepts.

"This year we are proud to present one of the nation's favorite children's attractions, the Sea Lion Splash," Reno said. "Kids' faces will light up watching the sea lions do their tricks and teach the children about their life. Ride the rides down the Mile Long Midway to the Trademart where the Fetch-N-Fish will be joined by the Butterfly Encounter. Be prepared for butterflies to land on your shoulder and to feed them, too! 'Encounter' this and more in the same building as all the great exhibits. And of course, don't forget the Biscuit Booth, where over 108,000 biscuits made from scratch by employees of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce were handed out last year. End your day with great concerts at the Budweiser pavilion where the new outdoor set up was a rousing success last year."

Whether you come for the livestock shows, musical entertainment, food or rides, the Mississippi State Fair is sure to have something for everyone in the family, Hyde-Smith said.

"This year's fair will be packed with fun," she said. "Make sure to come out and see us!"

Daily activities will take place in the Trade Mart, the Kirk Fordice Equine Center, and all along the 105 acres of Mississippi Fairgrounds Complex. The Mississippi State Fair runs Wednesday, October 4 through Sunday, October 15, with a gate admission price of $5.00 per person. Children under the age of six are admitted free of charge. Enjoy free admission weekdays 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. See pages 18 to 21 for a complete fair guide listing. For additional information, download the Mississippi State Fair mobile app or visit www.msfair.net.

Mississippi youth compete for top honors showcasing the best in livestock and agriculture. Come see the best in market and dairy cattle, goats, sheep and swine shows at the 2017 Mississippi State Fair.

Home Style Fair Food

Chocolate Caramel Apples

- 1 14-ounce package caramels
- 2 tablespoons water
- 4 wooden sticks
- 4 large tart apples
- 2 cups chopped pecans or peanuts
- 1 cup (or 6 ounces) semisweet chocolate chips
- 1 teaspoon shortening
- 1 cup English toffee bits or almond brickle chips

In a large microwave-safe bowl, combine the caramels and water. Microwave, uncovered, on high for 45 seconds; stir. Microwave 20-40 seconds longer or until the caramels are melted; stir until smooth. Insert wooden sticks into apples; dip apples into the caramel mixture, turning to coat. Coat with nuts; set on waxed paper to cool. Meanwhile, melt chocolate chips and shortening; stir until smooth. Drizzle over apples. Sprinkle apples with toffee bits. Place on waxed paper to cool. Cut into wedges to serve.

Hot and Spicy Turkey Legs

- 4 turkey drumsticks (1 1/2 pounds each)
- 2/3 cup Louisiana-style hot sauce
- 1/3 cup canola oil
- 1 tablespoon reduced-sodium soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 2 teaspoons ground mustard
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 1 teaspoon onion powder
- 1 teaspoon celery salt
- 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce, optional

Divide drumsticks between two large resealable bags. In a bowl, whisk remaining ingredients until blended. Add 3/4 cup marinade to drumsticks, dividing evenly between bags. Seal bags and turn to coat. Refrigerate eight hours or overnight. Cover and refrigerate remaining marinade. Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Remove drumsticks from marinade and place in a foil-lined 15 x 10 x 1-inch baking pan; discard marinade in bags. Cover and bake drumsticks for 45 minutes. Uncover; bake 45-60 minutes longer or until a thermometer reads 175 degrees, basting occasionally with reserved marinade.

Lemonade Iced Tea

- 3 quarts water
- 9 individual tea bags
- 3/4 to 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 1 12-ounce can frozen lemonade concentrate, thawed
- Lemon slices, optional

In a Dutch oven, bring water to a boil. Remove from the heat; add tea bags. Cover and steep for five minutes. Discard tea bags. Stir in sugar and lemonade concentrate. Cover and refrigerate until chilled. Serve over ice. If desired, garnish with lemon slices.

Fried Mashed Potato Balls

- 2 cups cold mashed potatoes
- 1 egg, lightly beaten
- 3/4 cup shredded cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup chopped green onions
- 1/4 cup real bacon bits
- 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
- Oil for frying

Place mashed potatoes in a large bowl; let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes. Stir in the egg, cheese, onions and bacon bits. Shape into one-inch balls; roll in bread crumbs and let stand for 15 minutes. In an electric skillet or deep-fat fryer, heat one inch of oil to 375 degrees. Fry potato balls, a few at a time, for two and a half to three minutes or until golden brown. Remove with a slotted spoon to paper towels to drain. Serve warm.

Sweet Corn Beignets with Bacon-Sugar Dust

- 1 package (1/4 ounce) active dry yeast
- 1 cup warm 2% milk (110° to 115°)
- 1 1/4 cups fresh or frozen corn, thawed
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 cup butter, melted
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 4 1/2 to 5 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 cups confectioners' sugar
- 6 cooked bacon strips
- Oil for deep-fat frying

In a large bowl, dissolve yeast in warm milk. Add the corn, sugar, eggs, butter, salt, vanilla and 4 1/2 cups flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in enough remaining flour to form a soft dough (dough will be sticky). Turn dough onto floured surface; knead until smooth and elastic, about six to eight minutes. Place in a greased bowl, turning once to grease the top. Cover and let rise in a warm place until doubled, about one hour. Meanwhile, in a food processor, combine confectioners' sugar and bacon. Process until combined; set aside. Punch dough down. Turn onto a lightly floured surface; roll into a 16-inch x 12-inch rectangle. Cut into two-inch squares. In an electric skillet or deep-fat fryer, heat oil to 375 degrees. Fry squares, a few at a time, until golden brown, about one and a half minutes on each side. Drain on paper towels. Dust with bacon-sugar mixture. Serve warm.

From the moment you step through the gate, that tempting tantalizing aroma of cotton candy, candy apples, burgers, pizza, catfish and chicken-on-a-stick will let you know you have arrived at the State Fair. So get ready for your favorite fair food, rides and games plus some of the best sounds of rock, pop, country and gospel music. The Mississippi State Fair is a tradition of family fun.

Don't miss it!

Dear Fairgoers,

On behalf of the Mississippi Fair Commission and the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce, welcome to the 158th Mississippi State Fair! It is my pleasure to open the gates for you and your family to enjoy all the fun-filled, family entertainment and attractions the State Fair has to offer.

During the 12 days of the Mississippi State Fair, we transform into an exciting amusement park filled with the most delicious fair food, carnival rides, games and contests. From pig races to the kid zone and butterfly encounter, the Mississippi State Fair offers entertainment for all ages. Spectators and participants can find excitement in numerous livestock shows and musical entertainment from headliner artists. Make sure to come by the most popular stops on the Midway - the Biscuit Booth, for a warm, homemade biscuit compliments of the employees from the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce.

Make the most of your visit by following the schedule of events and activities in this Fun Guide. For more information, including concert and event schedules, a map of the attractions, livestock show information, the parked car finder and more, download the Mississippi State Fair's free mobile app.

I extend by gratitude to you for letting the Mississippi State Fair be a part of your family tradition. In addition, thank you to those who dedicate their time to bring the fair to life. The entire staff of the Mississippi Fair Commission should be applauded for working diligently each year to bring the best of the State Fair to you.

Sincerely,

Cindy Hyde-Smith

USDA/NRCS Accepting Environmental Quality Incentive Program Applications

By Kavanaugh Breazeale
USDA-NRCS

The United States Department of Agriculture/Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) is providing financial assistance through the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) to help Mississippi producers, farmers and ranchers implement conservation practices.

NRCS strives to help producers and landowners enact environmentally friendly activities such as improving water and air quality, building healthier soils, improving grazing and forest lands, enhancing organic operations and conserving energy. EQIP provides financial assistance for a variety of conservation programs, which include irrigation water management, tree/shrub planting, field buffers, rotational grazing systems and erosion control practices. All programs are voluntary and offer science-based solutions that benefit both the landowner and the environment.

"The Environmental Quality Incentives Program offers producers a variety of options to conserve natural resources on their properties", stated Kurt Readus, NRCS state conservationist for Mississippi. "This conservation investment helps to improve environmental health and the economy of Mississippi's communities."

To qualify for EQIP, an applicant must be an individual, entity or joint operation that meets eligibility criteria. Applications for EQIP and all NRCS financial assistance programs are accepted on a continuous basis with specific sign-up deadlines being established to rank, contract and fund qualified tracts of land. The deadline to sign-up to be considered in the EQIP first ranking period is October 1, 2017.

Applicants can sign up at their local NRCS office. For more information about EQIP, visit the NRCS website: http://www.nrcs.usda.gov/wps/portal/nrcs/detail/ms/programs/financial/eqip/?cid=nrcs142p2_017159

To locate the nearest NRCS office visit <http://offices.sc.egov.usda.gov/locator/app>.

The Mississippi Timber Price Report (MTPR) is a quarterly survey of stumpage timber prices in Mississippi. It is developed to provide a picture of timber market activity. The state average prices for common forest products are listed. Values given are offered as a guide to help individuals assess the fair market value of their timber. The average price should not be applied as the exact value for a particular tract. This report is updated quarterly and available at MSUCares.com/forestry, or by contacting your local county Extension office.

China Beef Market Access Will Help Cattle Producers

By Robert Nathan Gregory
MSU Extension Service

The first shipment of U.S. beef to China in more than 13 years reached its destination in June, and Mississippi cattle producers are beginning to see modest rewards of new market access.

Current cattle prices in Mississippi are up from a year ago. Lightweight cattle are $1.67 per pound, while heavyweight feeder cattle are around $1.35 per pound. A year ago, lightweight cattle were $1.55 per pound, and heavyweight cattle were in the range of $1.17 per pound.

"The cattle market has exhibited strong demand through most of 2017 despite the increased supply of cattle in the U.S.," said Josh Maples, an agricultural economist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service. "Prices have generally decreased over the past month, which is due to a combination of seasonal factors and the increased supply."

Maples said patience and adjustments will be necessary for the U.S. cattle industry to see the potential of its renewed agreement with the world's most populous country. China is the top importer of beef, but its per capita consumption is less than the rate seen in the U.S. Based on its population of nearly 1.4 billion, per capita consumption in China is less than 13 pounds, compared with 56 pounds here.

"Most cattle producers want to know if this agreement is going to boost prices," Maples said. "My response is that market access to China is a long-run game. Market success will not be enjoyed overnight, but with the size of China's population, even gaining a small share of the per capita consumption totals will have a large impact on U.S. exports."

While the country's consumption rate shows room for growth, he said, expansion will likely be throttled by household income.

"Average per capita income in China was just over $8,000 in 2015 -- significantly lower than the U.S. average of more than $56,000," Maples said. "This leads many Chinese consumers to be very price sensitive."

Because Mississippi beef producers will not export directly to China, any financial success experienced as the result of the new market will be indirect. Mississippi has approximately 15,940 beef cattle farms, but it has no commercial feedlots for finishing calves.

"Mississippi cattle are usually sold prior to entering feedlots, so producers often have no idea which feedlot their calves end up in -- much less any idea about where the beef from their calves will go," he said. "The benefits to Mississippi producers will be filtered through feedlot demand for cattle. If systems adjust such that China is demanding a lot of U.S. beef, this could positively impact fed cattle prices, which will impact feeder cattle prices."

China banned U.S. beef in 2003 because of a case of bovine spongiform encephalopathy in a Holstein dairy cow in Washington. Upon confirming the case, the U.S. Department of Agriculture identified and euthanized 255 cattle related to the source herd and found no other cases of the disease.

Reports of China and the U.S. resuming their trade deal on beef surfaced last year, but the U.S. had to establish export protocols dictated by China for the ban to be lifted.

"There are a few trade details that limit the short-term impact the deal will have on beef exports and will require different production practices than are commonly used," Maples said. "Cattle must be traceable to the U.S. birth farm using a unique identifier, beef must be uniquely identified until shipment, and exports should not contain growth promotants, feed additives and other chemical compounds."

MSU Extension beef cattle specialist Cobie Rutherford said trace-ability and management clauses are not uncommon in beef trade deals. For eight years, Japan accepted only beef from cattle that were 20 months of age or younger.

"The only way for producers to verify this claim of age was to participate in a voluntary program that provided calving and management records to a certified provider who could audit and verify the cattle records," Rutherford said. "Unique ID tags were distributed to participating producers for use on specific calves or a calf crop. To participate, producers would pay a fee to the provider and buy the tags. Similar practices would have to be in place for beef exported to China."

Each of these criteria add costs to beef to become eligible for shipment to China. As a result, a relatively small percentage of beef produced in the U.S. currently qualifies.

"The no-growth-promotants clause is especially at odds with current production practices," Maples said. "Most U.S. cattle are given some type of growth promotant, usually in the stocker or feedlot stages. If Chinese consumers begin to demand more U.S. beef, purchasing and feeding programs that meet these regulations will develop to provide the supply."

The new consumer base would have adjustments of its own to make. Beef produced in the U.S. is overwhelmingly grain-fed, while most of China's current trading partners -- Australia, Brazil, New Zealand and Uruguay -- produce mostly grass-fed beef. Steaks from grass-fed beef cattle are generally less tender and have an increased "yellowness" in fat color.

"While the flavor is dependent on many things, including cattle breed, the type and maturity of grass being grazed and marbling score, many U.S. consumers tend to find an 'off flavor' to grass-finished beef products," Rutherford said.

Cattle market prices in Mississippi are up from a year ago as China has lifted its ban on U.S. beef. Black Angus cows graze at the H.H. Leveck Animal Research Center at Mississippi State University Sept. 6, 2017. (Photo by MSU Extension Service/Lindsay Pace)

Fall Flower & Garden Fest Set for October 13 and 14

By Susan M. Collins-Smith
MSU Extension Service

Home gardeners and horticulture professionals can learn about the latest plants, research and gardening techniques during the 39th annual Fall Flower & Garden Fest on October 13 and 14.

The event is the Southeast's largest home horticulture show and draws an average of 5,000 people each year to the Mississippi State University Truck Crops Branch Experiment Station. The station is located at 2024 Experiment Station Road in Crystal Springs. The MSU Extension Service and Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station sponsor the fest each year.

Extension Service and Experiment Station experts along with industry leaders and Extension Master Gardeners will share information on vegetables, flowers, herbs, turf, beekeeping, composting and more.

Gates open at 9 a.m. and close at 2 p.m. each day. Admission and parking are free. The fest is handicapped accessible.

Educational seminars on several topics of interest to home gardeners will be offered at three locations simultaneously throughout both days. Among the workshop and seminar topics are herbs, pond management, shade gardening, butterfly gardens, specialty crops, flower gardening, backyard wildlife habitats, and pest, disease and weed management.

Attendees can also participate in wagon tours of the 175-acre station and informational walking tours of the gardens that showcase All-America Selections winners, Mississippi

Medallion winners, and other tested landscape and garden plants.

The Truck Crops Branch is dedicated to year-round research on home and commercial fruit, vegetable and ornamental crops.

More than 60 vendors will offer a variety of plants, yard art and gardening tools for purchase. Representatives from the Mississippi Museum of Natural Science will be on site with live animals.

For more information, visit the Fall Flower & Garden Fest website at <http://extension.msstate.edu/fallfest> or contact the local MSU Extension Service office or Rick Snyder at 601-892-3731 or rick.snyder@msstate.edu.

For event updates, follow the fest on Facebook at <http://facebook.com/FFGFest> and on Twitter at @MSUFallFest.

Pecan Field Day Set for October 6

By Susan M. Collins-Smith
MSU Extension Service

Pecan producers can learn the latest updates in their industry during an upcoming field day.

The Mississippi Pecan Growers Association will host the 2017 Fall Field Day on October 6 at Tri-Delta Pecans Inc., located at 537 Broadway Extended North in Greenville.

Topics include marketing, harvest, pecan grading, and food safety and quality control practices. Attendees will also tour the Tri-Delta Pecans cleaning and processing facility.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. The event begins at 10 a.m. and ends at 2 p.m. Registration is free for association members and $15 each for non-members. Lunch will be served and must be reserved.

The association partners with the Mississippi State University Extension Service and Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station for the field day.

To register and reserve a lunch plate, contact Mississippi Pecan Growers President Max Draughn at 601-594-4393 or maxdraughn@gmail.com.

Agriculture Conservation Easement Program from USDA/NRCS

By Kavanaugh Breazeale
USDA-NRCS

The United States Department of Agriculture/Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) is accepting applications for the Agricultural Conservation Easement Program (ACEP). ACEP provides financial and technical assistance to landowners and Native American Tribes with conservation efforts on agricultural lands and wetlands.

NRCS strives to help producers and landowners enact environmentally friendly activities such as improving water and air quality, building healthier soils, improving grazing and forest lands, enhancing organic operations and conserving energy. ACEP consists of two separate components, the Agricultural Land Easement (ALE) option and the Wetland Reserve Easement (WRE) option. These options are tailored to benefit different land types that meet specific qualifications and are cost effective.

The ALE component is geared to protect agricultural lands devoted to food production from conversion into non-agricultural uses. ALE works with eligible partners such as conservation organizations, state and local governments to share the easement costs.

The WRE component aims to restore, enhance and protect wetlands through the purchase of a wetland reserve easement. WRE works with individual land owners and land managers to cover the total restoration cost for a permanent easement or up to 75% funding assistance on a 30 year easement.

Both programs ensure long term conservation of agricultural lands, either through preservation of farming operations or restoring wetlands and improving wildlife habitat.

"The Agricultural Conservation Easement Program offers land owners and land managers two options to protect agricultural lands and protect wetlands," stated Kurt Readus, NRCS state conservationist for Mississippi. "This conservation investment helps to improve environmental health and the natural resources of Mississippi."

Applications for all NRCS financial-assistance programs are accepted on a continuous sign-up process, however specific sign-up deadlines are established to rank, contract and fund qualified tracts of land. The deadline to sign-up to be considered for consideration in ACEP's fiscal year 2018 funding period is October 27, 2017.

Landowners, Non-Government Organizations and Native American Tribes interested in participating in ACEP should visit the nearest USDA Service Center for more information.

To locate your local service center, visit <http://offices.sc.egov.usda.gov/locator/app>. For more information, visit our website at <http://www.nrcs.usda.gov/wps/portal/nrcs/site/ms/home/>. Applications are available at GetStarted.

Agriculture Commissioner Meets with Leaders during Two-Day Tour of Mississippi Delta

By Paige Manning
Director of Marketing and Public Relations — MDAC

Commissioner of Agriculture Cindy Hyde-Smith wrapped up a two-day tour of the Mississippi Delta where she met with farmers and agribusiness leaders to discuss agricultural related issues and policies.

During the tour, she addressed challenges faced by the agriculture industry and offered solutions to move the state's largest industry forward as she continues to promote agriculture on the regional and national levels through her roles as President of the Southern Association of State Departments of Agriculture and the Southern US Trade Association.

"A large percentage of the state's row crops are produced in the Delta making agriculture the lifeblood of the small towns and rural communities throughout the region. The impact that agriculture has on our state goes beyond just farmers and their families; agriculture touches the lives of everyone with so many of our communities relying on the agricultural economy," said Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Cindy Hyde-Smith. "The opportunity to speak with farmers and hear the challenges they face daily better equips me to promote and protect agriculture, one of my top priorities."

During the course of the two days, Commissioner Hyde-Smith made stops in four locations starting in Anguilla and from there traveled to Greenville, Cleveland and Clarksdale. This is the first of several regional tours that Commissioner Hyde-Smith is planning across the state so that she can have the opportunity to hear the needs of the industry and work towards moving the agriculture industry forward.

REMINDER

The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce would like to remind producers to confirm that their grain dealers or grain warehouses are licensed by either the Mississippi Department of Agriculture & Commerce or the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Warehouses that store grain for the public in Mississippi are required to be licensed pursuant to the Grain Warehouse Law, unless the warehouse is licensed under the United States Warehouse Act. The law requires the warehouse to post the license in a conspicuous place in the office of the grain warehouse. Grain warehousemen must be bonded for financial and storage obligations, and they must maintain sufficient assets to cover potential losses. Bonding requirements of the law range from a minimum of $15,000 to, in general, a maximum of $1,000,000.

The Mississippi Grain Dealers Law requires that dealers who purchase grain directly from producers must be licensed and bonded. Operations or individuals who are not licensed are prohibited by law from purchasing grain from producers.

Grain producers should also maintain accurate sales invoices, weight tickets and other documents on grain sold or stored.

Before marketing their grain, producers are encouraged to confirm with their grain warehouse and/or their grain dealer that they have a current license with the Department. For more information, contact the Department's Grain Division at 601-359-1111.

Horse Health Reminder

By Jim Watson, D.V.M., DACVPM
State Veterinarian
MS Board of Animal Health

With cool weather and trail riding season upon us, this is a reminder to make sure you have a current Coggins Test. Equine Infectious Anemia (EIA) is a virus transmitted by biting flies and the same needle being used between horses.

Infected horses are carriers for life, and often show no symptoms of disease, so the Coggins Test is the only way to know if your horse is carrying the virus. There is no cure for the disease, and positive horses must be kept quarantined away from other horses or euthanized to prevent spread of disease.

The only way to protect your horse from the deadly disease is to have your horse tested yearly as required by law, and to make sure that all events you attend require everyone to have their negative Coggins Test in order to participate in the event. As previously mentioned, Mississippi State Code 69-15-117 requires all horses travelling on public roads, attending public events or being sold to have a yearly negative Coggins Test.

It is also a requirement for all horses traveling across state lines to have a negative Coggins Test. Please do your part to help eliminate this disease that is so devastating to owners of horses which become infected.

I would also like to remind everyone to keep your horses current on their vaccinations. We have had an unusually high number of Eastern Equine Encephalitis and West Nile Cases during the past month.

Please contact your veterinarian to see what vaccinations are recommended for your horse.
