Dixie Round-Up Generates Scholarship Money for 4-H'ers

By Nathan Gregory
MSU Extension Service

Since the age of 7, Smith County 4-H'er Chase Boone has been showing mostly Simmental cattle in the Dixie National Junior Round-Up each year.

He is now a high school senior who will soon be moving on to college but not before a final appearance in one of his favorite livestock show events. He ended up exhibiting two supreme champion livestock -- the supreme beef female and the supreme beef bull -- and was named one of six premier exhibitors.

It was a successful send-off, if not a bittersweet one.

"I'm going to miss being actively involved in the show ring and being on the end of a halter leading into the ring," Boone said. "It's going to be a transition period because I've done it for so long and so many times."

Champion animals are featured in the Round-Up's final event: the Dixie National Sale of Junior Champions. Held February 9 at the Mississippi Trade Mart, the sale featured a record 48 champion market animals, including eight steers, 16 hogs, 10 lambs, 12 goats, and for the first time, two hair sheep. The shows featured 1,257 4-H and FFA members showing 2,153 animals. For photos of the 2023 Sale of Junior Champions see pages 22-29.

The Sale of Junior Champions Promotion Committee awarded 25 $1,500 scholarships to exhibitors who are high school seniors but did not qualify an animal in the sale, six $2,000 scholarships to premier exhibitors and eight $1,500 scholarships to owners of supreme champion livestock. In total, the committee awarded $61,500 in scholarships.

For his efforts, Boone took home two scholarships worth $1,500 apiece and a $2,000 scholarship for being a premier exhibitor.

MSU Extension 4-H livestock specialist Dean Jousan said the 54th edition of the sale was another massive success.

"The 2023 sale generated $456,285 that many of the exhibitors will direct toward their college funds or for purchase of a new project animal for the next show season," Jousan said, "and each of them earned every penny. None of these youth started with a champion market animal. They put in a year's worth of care, training and practice with their animals to advance to this event."

Boone is one of the exhibitors whose future aspirations are closer to reality with the help of the scholarships he won. He plans to attend Jones College next fall and has narrowed down his university destinations to two, including MSU. He wants to pursue a career in agricultural business as a loan officer for a land bank.

For now, he holds many fond memories of his livestock-show-

"I enjoy the friendships that can be made at every level, whether it's a local jackpot show, Dixie Nationals or a national show," Boone said. "I've built connections to people who led me down the right path to a promising future."

The sale began in 1970 to encourage young people to pursue livestock projects. Since then, it has generated nearly $9 million through livestock sales and awarded $1.1 million in scholarships to Mississippi students.

USDA to survey farmers' planting intentions for 2023

Jackson, MS – As the 2023 crop production season begins, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) will contact producers nationwide to determine their plans for the upcoming growing season.

"Each year, the agriculture industry anticipates USDA's Prospective Plantings report, which provides the first survey-based estimates of U.S. farmers' planting intentions for the year," said NASS's Mississippi State Statistician Esmerelda Dickson. "The March Agricultural Survey provides the factual data that underpins these projections, making it one of the most important surveys we conduct each year."

NASS will mail the survey to 1,451 Mississippi producers on February 17, asking producers to provide information about the types of crops they intend to plant in 2023, how many acres they intend to plant, and the amounts of grain and oilseed they store on their farms. Producers can respond online at agcounts.usda.gov or by mail. Those who do not respond by February 27 may be emailed a reminder or contacted for an interview.

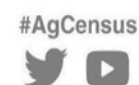

In accordance with federal law, NASS keeps responses confidential and publishes data in aggregate form only, ensuring that no individual operation or producer can be identified.

Magnolia Gardens

Phase 1 of Magnolia Gardens is complete, and it is beautiful! Located at the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum in Jackson, Miss. This project is 100% doner funded and is a beautiful way to honor the achievements such as graduation, promotions, excellence in work, birthdays, anniversaries, new baby, retirement, and any special occasion you can imagine. You can also donate in memory of a loved one.

All donations go directly to the Gardens for beautification and for maintenance. For every donation we will mail certificates to the honoree and to the designated person for memorial gifts. You will receive an acknowledgement letter for your contribution.

Please contact Ginger Williamson, ginger@mdac.ms.gov or 601-359-1150 with questions or go to www.Msmagnoliagardens.com or scan the code to go directly to the contribution page. Thank you for choosing Magnolia Gardens to honor and to memorialize your loved ones.

For six decades, patrons have contributed funds in exchange for a magnolia tree planted in honor of or in memory of loved ones. Over the years the program has planted tens of thousands of magnolia trees along state highways. Due to new regulations, the program needed adjustments. Enjoy the beautiful garden created in honor of your loved ones located at the Mississippi Ag and Forestry Museum in Jackson, Mississippi.

The main garden has a formal design incorporating a variety of plants, trees, flora, stone, water, and wood. The gardens will be strategically lighted to enhance the beauty of the design at night. Enjoy the lush landscape encircling the bronze "Working Man" sculpture donated to the Ag Museum in 2011. Relax on the cypress wood seating to enjoy the container gardens and water features framed with cypress shutters. Floral beds offer seasonal beauty outside of the central area.

The goal is to complete the entire project in 2021, honoring the 60th anniversary of Magnolia Gardens, formerly known as Avenue of Magnolias. We thank you for your contributions thus far. In order to complete the gardens, including the Avenue of Magnolias, $150,000.00 in additional funds are needed.

All donations, regardless of amount, will receive a letter acknowledging their donation. Recipients will receive our Magnolia Garden certificate honoring their loved ones.

Donations exceeding $5,000 will be acknowledged with a plaque at the garden site.

To donate, visit www.msmagnoliagardens.com and select the Contribution Form.

Sprouting with Anticipation

By Amie C. Clark
Mississippi Agriculture
& Forestry Museum - MDAC

Each spring offers a rebirth of our horizon as a soft green haze replaces the brown barren expanse of the desolate fields. This barely noticeable film atop each distinct row signifies new growth and hope for the coming season. It is humbling to know that each tiny sprig started its journey as a simple seed buried in the cold darkness of the winter soil. We, too, have felt the cold darkness as it crept in during the winter season. We have waited with anticipation, resting and preparing ourselves for the emergence of spring. New life and growth surround us as we travel the thoroughfares and backroads of our wonderful state.

Spring brings with it the anticipation of turned earth, tractors tracing back and forth across the land and the wonder of what crops will be planted this season. In our kitchen, we anticipate the tender spring greens from the garden, fresh eggs on the table and the coming berry crop of the summer. We've weathered the long winter with the stores stockpiled in fall. In our yard, we lay out the summer garden with rows of peas, beans, corn, squash, tomatoes, okra and host of other tasty goodness. Each of these experiences are an act of intentional hope that comes through agriculture.

The seasons show us how we are woven into the very heartbeat of nature. It is through care of the soil, water and environment that we reap the benefits so readily available. We invest ourselves alongside the land upon which we live and enjoy the fruits of that bond.

During our Spring Farm Days event at the Ag Museum, March 2, 3, and 4, there will be ample opportunity to get closer to the agricultural experience. We will be starting spring vegetable seedlings, getting beds ready for a pollinator garden, planting flowers around Small Town. Our living historians will be hearth cooking some great historic dishes. It's also a great opportunity to get up close with some of our farm animals as you visit the Children's Barnyard.

We encourage you to enjoy the spring air as you ride around Small Town on one of our train or wagon rides. You can visit the General Store pick up a glass bottle coke and a moon pie while shopping for souvenirs. Then, play a game of checkers on the front porch. As always, take time to enjoy the main gallery and see all the exciting ways our forefathers worked the land.

Think Twice Before Buying Livestock Online

By Brandie Bairfield
Mississippi Agricultural & Livestock Theft Bureau - MDAC

The Mississippi Agricultural and Livestock Theft Bureau (MALTB) is warning residents about online scams involving the purchasing of horses. MALTB has received several calls from the public that have purchased horses coming from out of state that have been scammed.

In these instances, all communication between the buyer and seller is done over the phone. The buyer purchases the horse strictly on pictures the seller sends to them. The buyer sends money prior to the delivery of the horse, but once the horse has been delivered, it is not the horse that was advertised. When the buyer reaches out to the seller to discuss the issue, the seller does not return any phone calls or text messages.

MALTB Director, Dean Barnard, highly advises not to purchase livestock online. "I strongly suggest that buyers see the animals in person. If you are purchasing an animal out of state, hire an equine broker to represent you and inspect the animal prior to purchase. Ensure animals have a certificate of veterinarian inspection. We all know the internet is a great place to buy almost anything, but it is not where you go to buy livestock out of state without doing your homework. Bottom line, if the situation feels like a scam, it probably is," said Barnard.

The Mississippi Agricultural and Livestock Theft Bureau, a division of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce, enforces state laws pertaining to the theft of cattle, horses, swine, poultry, fish, farm equipment, chemicals, timber and all other farm or agriculture-related crimes. Visit <http://msagtheft.org/> to learn more about the MALTB. To report or provide information regarding an agricultural crime, call (800) 678-2660.
