Late Freeze Causes Severe Damage to MS Blueberries

By Susan Collins-Smith
MSU Extension Service

Mississippi blueberry producers expect to see substantial yield losses in the state's largest commercial fruit crop after the hard freeze that hit the state on the weekend of March 18.

Lows dropped into the mid and upper 20s on March 20, according to data from the National Weather Service in Jackson and two weather monitoring stations located on the grounds of the Mississippi State University South Mississippi Branch Experiment station in Poplarville.

A low of 25 or colder after March 20 has been observed only six times in Jackson since recordkeeping began in 1896, according to Eric Carpenter, senior meteorologist with the National Weather Service in Jackson. Those cold snaps were in 1915, 1955, 1965, 1966, 1968, and 1986.

Eric Stafne, fruit and nut specialist with the MSU Extension Service, said growers will see significant losses. The condition of the crop is poor based on what commercial growers are reporting to him and his observation of damage to blueberry plants at the South Mississippi Branch Experiment Station in Poplarville, where he is based.

Just how much fruit will be lost is difficult to say at this point, but Stafne estimates that at least 50% of the state's commercial crop is lost.

"The number of berries we harvest usually ends up being more than we initially think in an event like this," he said. "But it really depends on variety, stage of growth, minimum temperature and some other factors."

Blueberry plant varieties that already had open blooms and set fruit will be the most affected. Flowers that were still closed at the time of the freeze appear to be fine, but flowers that were open and fruit that was already developing are damaged, Stafne said.

"Some varieties in some locations will be a near complete loss, whereas others will have a crop," said Stafne, who also conducts research at the station, one of five Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station units located within the southeast region.

The most common blueberry varieties grown in Mississippi are rabbiteye and Southern highbush. There are several rabbiteye varieties with fruit maturity beginning in early, mid and late season. Southern highbush varieties were bred to bloom earlier in the season and are more susceptible to frosts and freeze events.

However, the early arrival of spring temperatures put blooming plants ahead of schedule by about two weeks, leaving both blueberry types more vulnerable to freezing temperatures.

Jeremy Edwards, owner of Great Southern Farms in Richton, said this year's cold damage is the worst he has experienced on his 165-acre blueberry farm, where he and his family grow rabbiteye and Southern highbush varieties.

On March 24, after a few days of warm weather, which is needed to be able to assess damage, he estimated they will lose 80% or more of their crop. That's about 600,000 pounds of berries that would have been headed to market in the next few weeks.

Edwards usually hires more than 60 workers at the height of the season to help with hand and mechanical harvest but anticipates employing only six people this year.

"Some years we take some losses on Southern highbush, but this year was the perfect storm," he said. "The warm temperatures in February really pushed everything out well ahead of normal."

"This will be a tough year financially," Edwards said.

That will be the case for most commercial growers, which are concentrated in the southern half of Mississippi, Stafne said.

"This freeze event is devastating for commercial growers. The overall

Governor Reeves Signs Bill Designating Blueberry as State Fruit of Mississippi

By Shelby Wilcher, Press Secretary
Office of Mississippi Governor

On March, 13, 2023, Governor Reeves signed House Bill 1027 which designates the blueberry as the official state fruit of Mississippi.

A group of fourth grade Mannsdale Upper Elementary School students led the way on this issue as a result of a school project. They researched the fruit, lobbied representatives, and joined Governor Reeves for the bill signing at the capitol on Monday alongside the bill's author, Rep. Jill Ford.

"I was happy to sign this legislation into law. This is all thanks to the initiative of these great Mannsdale Upper Elementary School students," said Governor Tate Reeves. "I'm very proud of their efforts leading the way on this issue and rallying the legislature to their cause. I enjoyed meeting them at the signing ceremony. They have bright futures ahead of them!"

"Blueberries are a big crop for the state of Mississippi. Last year alone, Mississippi boasted of more than 1,900 acres of blueberries in production. I'm thrilled that this delicious berry has been made the new state fruit and I hope this legislation brings even more attention to Mississippi's largest industry – agriculture," said Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson.

MDAC Standing by Storm Victims

By Andy Gipson
Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce

The devastation of the tornadoes that wreaked havoc across Mississippi on the Friday night of March 24 will not soon be forgotten. The damage caused by the massive storm as it traveled west to east across the state was almost incomprehensible. My thoughts and prayers continue to go out to all who were impacted across the state from Rolling Fork to Amory. I want those impacted to know that your Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce stands by you.

Early the next morning following the tornadoes, plans were already being put into place to turn the Armory at the Mississippi State Fairgrounds into a donation collection site to benefit the storm victims. The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce partnered with the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency and the Mississippi Department of Public Safety to make this happen. By 1:00 p.m. that afternoon, water, canned goods, paper goods, diapers, baby wipes and clothes were being collected to assist those in need. The collection continued for five days with an outpouring of kindness from the Jackson metro area.

I traveled to Rolling Fork on the Monday following the storms and to Amory later that week to deliver some of the items donated at the Fairgrounds. What I witnessed among the rubble and debris were grateful hearts and resiliency. Mississippians are known for their resilience and willingness to jump in and help neighbors in their greatest time of need. I had the opportunity to speak to those who suffered devastating losses and to shake the hands and thank volunteers who had come from near and far to assist these hard hit communities.

The Genuine MS® Cooking Team partnered with the Mississippi Egg Marketing Board, Cal-Maine Foods Inc., Peco Foods Inc. and Foam Packing to prepare and serve breakfast and lunch for 400 volunteers and first responders on the ground in Silver City. I appreciate our partners collaborating with us to fill this important need.

This is a crucial time of year for our farmers as they enter planting season, and agriculture is the backbone of the communities that were hit. Many of our farmers suffered their own damage and losses from the tornadoes. The tornadoes caused damage to our agriculture infrastructure. We expect some disruptions with supplies and shipping as some ag input suppliers were damaged. As you look at pictures of the aftermath, you will notice the debris that is spread across the large, open fields. This debris will have to be removed prior to planting. The good news is our farmers are resilient when faced with adversity. No matter if it's adversities caused by flooding, economic factors, pandemics or the recent tornadoes, our farmers remain strong. And, our farmers do not stop doing what it takes to put a crop in the ground so they can feed and clothe the world.

From Our Kitchen To Yours

Delicious Blueberry Recipes!!

*****

Blueberry Dump Cake

- 1 can (21 ounces) blueberry pie filling
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- 2 cups fresh or frozen blueberries
- 1/3 cup packed brown sugar
- 1 package (16-1/2 ounces) yellow cake mix
- 3/4 cup butter, melted
- Whipped cream, optional

Preheat oven to 350°. Mix pie filling and almond extract; spread into a greased 11x7-in. baking dish. Stir together blueberries and brown sugar; place over pie filling. Sprinkle with cake mix; drizzle with butter. Bake until golden brown, 30-35 minutes. Cool on a wire rack. If desired, serve with whipped cream and additional blueberries.

Blueberry Biscuit Cobbler

- 4 cups fresh or frozen blueberries, thawed
- 3/4 cup sugar, divided
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons grated lemon zest
- 3/4 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 3 tablespoons cold butter
- 3/4 cup buttermilk

In a large bowl, combine the blueberries, 1/2 cup sugar, cornstarch, lemon juice, cinnamon and nutmeg. Transfer to a 2-qt. baking dish coated with cooking spray. In a small bowl, combine the flour, lemon zest, baking powder, salt, baking soda and remaining sugar; cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in buttermilk just until moistened. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto blueberry mixture. Bake, uncovered, at 375° for 30-35 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm.

Blueberry Oatmeal Muffins

- 1-1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 cup quick-cooking oats
- 1/2 cup packed brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 large egg, lightly beaten
- 1 cup plain yogurt
- 1/4 cup butter, melted
- 1 cup fresh blueberries

Preheat oven to 400°. In a large bowl, combine the first eight ingredients. Combine the egg, yogurt and butter; stir into dry ingredients just until moistened. Fold in blueberries. Coat muffin cups with cooking spray or use paper liners; fill three-fourths full with batter. Bake until a toothpick inserted in the muffin comes out clean, 18-22 minutes. Cool for 5 minutes before removing from pan to a wire rack. Serve warm.

Over-the-Top Blueberry Bread Pudding

- 3 large eggs
- 4 cups heavy whipping cream
- 2 cups sugar
- 3 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 2 cups fresh or frozen blueberries
- 1 package (10 to 12 ounces) white baking chips
- 1 loaf (1 pound) French bread, cut into 1-inch cubes

Sauce:

- 1 package (10 to 12 ounces) white baking chips
- 1 cup heavy whipping cream

Preheat oven to 350°. In a large bowl, combine eggs, cream, sugar and vanilla. Stir in blueberries and baking chips. Stir in bread cubes; let stand until bread is softened, about 15 minutes. Transfer to a greased 13x9-in. baking dish. Bake, uncovered, until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean, 50-60 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before serving. For sauce, place baking chips in a small bowl. In a small saucepan, bring cream just to a boil. Pour over baking chips; whisk until smooth. Serve with bread pudding. # Magnolia Gardens

Phase 1 of Magnolia Gardens is complete, and it is beautiful! Located at the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum in Jackson, Miss. This project is 100% doner funded and is a beautiful way to honor the achievements such as graduation, promotions, excellence in work, birthdays, anniversaries, new baby, retirement, and any special occasion you can imagine. You can also donate in memory of a loved one.

All donations go directly to the Gardens for beautification and for maintenance. For every donation we will mail certificates to the honoree and to the designated person for memorial gifts. You will receive an acknowledgement letter for your contribution.

Please contact Ginger Williamson, ginger@mdac.ms.gov or 601-359-1150 with questions or go to www.Msmagnoliagardens.com or scan the code to go directly to the contribution page. Thank you for choosing Magnolia Gardens to honor and to memorialize your loved ones.

For six decades, patrons have contributed funds in exchange for a magnolia tree planted in honor of or in memory of loved ones. Over the years the program has planted tens of thousands of magnolia trees along state highways. Due to new regulations, the program needed adjustments. Enjoy the beautiful garden created in honor of your loved ones located at the Mississippi Ag and Forestry Museum in Jackson, Mississippi.

The main garden has a formal design incorporating a variety of plants, trees, flora, stone, water, and wood. The gardens will be strategically lighted to enhance the beauty of the design at night. Enjoy the lush landscape encircling the bronze "Working Man" sculpture donated to the Ag Museum in 2011. Relax on the cypress wood seating to enjoy the container gardens and water features framed with cypress shutters. Floral beds offer seasonal beauty outside of the central area.

The goal is to complete the entire project in 2021, honoring the 60th anniversary of Magnolia Gardens, formerly known as Avenue of Magnolias. We thank you for your contributions thus far. In order to complete the gardens, including the Avenue of Magnolias, $150,000.00 in additional funds are needed.

All donations, regardless of amount, will receive a letter acknowledging their donation. Recipients will receive our Magnolia Garden certificate honoring their loved ones.

Donations exceeding $5,000 will be acknowledged with a plaque at the garden site.

To donate, visit www.msmagnoliagardens.com and select the Contribution Form.

Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce • Andy Gipson, Commissioner

Commissioner Andy Gipson Welcomes New MSU Head Coach Zach Arnett and New Athletic Director Zac Selmon

Mississippi Blueberries

crop will be reduced tremendously and even if there is some fruit in the field, it may not be economically viable to harvest it," he said. "It all depends on the quality of the fruit and the overall market price at the time."

Fruit quality after a freeze can range from scarring on the skin to berry rot, which causes fruit to collapse and fall off the bush. While scarred berries are edible, they are not commercially marketable. For later blooming varieties, berries could be larger even if the total yield is reduced, Stafne said.

Homeowners with blueberry bushes will see the same effects as commercial growers, Stafne said. While they are likely to have some crop, it probably will be smaller than usual.

"Early-season rabbiteye varieties will be the hardest hit, but later season varieties are likely to be better off," Stafne said. "Since growth was initiated about two weeks early this year, the timing of the freeze coincided with a lot of already set fruit and full bloom in some varieties."

For growers who have no harvestable crop, pruning can be done in late spring or early summer, Stafne said.

"This can help initiate more growth and set more fruiting buds for next season," he said.

MALTB Ongoing Investigation into Theft Ring in Tate and Panola Counties Leads to Multiple Arrests

By Paige Manning,
Director of Marketing and
Public Relations - MDAC

An ongoing investigation led by agents with the Mississippi Agricultural and Livestock Theft Bureau (MALTB) resulted in the arrests of Gary "Bubba" Louis Mills, Jr., Melville Dewitt Curtis III and Kyle Joseph Siebenmorgen. Mills is charged with receiving stolen property in Tate and Panola counties, felony possession of methamphetamine in Tate County, and violation of the Mississippi Chop Shop Law. Curtis is charged with receiving stolen property in Tate and Panola counties. Siebenmorgen is charged with felony possession of methamphetamine in Panola County and has a felony warrant from Arkansas. Curtis has a Mississippi Department of Corrections (MDOC) hold on him and will therefore remain incarcerated.

During the investigation, MALTB agents, with the assistance of the Tate County Sheriff's Office, Panola County Sheriff's Office, Hernando Police Department, Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics (MBN) and agents with the National Insurance Crime Bureau (NICB), seized farm equipment and vehicles with an estimated value of $500,000. Some of the recovered items include: two combine headers with trailers, Kubota cab and air 4x4 tractor, 2023 Caterpillar excavator, Land Pride batwing bush hog, commercial fertilizer spreader, Koufman pintle hitch trailer, disk, spray tank with booms, Lincoln welder, fuel tanks, cultivator, 2022 3500 GMC Duramax Denali truck, Ford F-250 crew cab truck, 1996 Ford flatbed truck, and a four door Can-Am Maverick.

"Our agents have worked diligently and tirelessly in collaboration with the Tate County Sheriff's Office, Panola County Sheriff's Office, Hernando Police Department, Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics and the National Insurance Crime Bureau to identify suspects and recover stolen items in this theft ring. Furthermore, this case will be forwarded to the District Attorney's Office for the presentment to the grand jury," said MALTB Director Dean Barnard.

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson commended the MALTB and all law enforcement involved in the investigation. "Crime doesn't pay, and our law enforcement team will hold wrongdoers accountable. I would like to thank our Agricultural and Livestock Theft Bureau and all of our partners in state and local law enforcement who assisted with this investigation leading to the arrest of three individuals. We look forward to seeing the perpetrators swiftly brought to justice," said Gipson.
