Commissioner Andy Gipson Partners with U.S. Representative Trent Kelly in FARM Corps

By Paige Manning
Director of Marketing and Public Relations - MDAC

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson announced that the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce is partnering with U.S. Representative Trent Kelly in the FARM Corps program to assist Mississippi farmers facing labor shortages due to COVID-19.

Representative Kelly launched the Farm and Ranch Mission (FARM) Corps program in partnership with the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce, Mississippi culture and Commerce, Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation, Mississippi National Guard and Reserves, the Mississippi State University Extension Service, Mississippi Department of Veterans Affairs and other agricultural and veteran organizations. FARM Corps connects furloughed or unemployed members of the Guard, Reserve and Veterans from all service branches with local farmers and ranchers who are suffering labor shortages caused by COVID-19 and the lack of H-2A labor supply.

"I commend Congressman Kelly for launching the FARM Corps program in Mississippi which comes at a critical time for farmers as the growing season progresses. Without the proper workforce, our farmers can't continue to operate. We look forward to working with all of the partners involved to address the labor shortage challenge. I encourage our farmers to take advantage of this tool and post their job openings on the FARM Corp website," said Commissioner Gipson.

For this planting and harvesting season, the FARM Corps will address a critical need for Mississippi's agricultural producers by providing skilled labor. Mississippi National Guardsmen and agricultural producers who are interested can visit the "Mississippi Farm Corps" Facebook page to learn more about this new program. More information about the FARM Corps can be found on the Mississippi FARM Corps website. The website is ready to be used by agricultural producers to apply for employees, guardsmen to apply for work, and to locate a list of available jobs.

Background: The COVID-19 pandemic has caused strict travel restrictions at a time when America's agricultural producers are both planting fall crops and harvesting summer crops. As a result, many farmers are experiencing large labor shortages in areas where they typically use foreign labor through the H-2A visa program.

The FARM Corps program originated in Arkansas as a collaboration between Arkansas Farm Bureau and U.S. Representative Rick Crawford.

MDAC Launches New Mississippi Farm Marketplace

By Hannah East
Marketing Specialist - MDAC

The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce has launched the new Mississippi Farm Marketplace, an online marketing portal where farmers can sell their crops. The Mississippi Farm Marketplace is a service of the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

The Mississippi Farm Marketplace is an online platform that directly connects farmers across the state with consumers. By simply creating an account, farmers will be able to list the commodities they have available for sale. Consumers can then find locally grown and raised products they need, at a location near them. This online tool is designed not only for individual consumers, but also for schools, restaurants, food banks, retailers, wholesalers, and others that are interested in purchasing direct from farmers.

Farmers can advertise a variety of products through the portal including produce, meats, dairy products, honey, live animals for custom slaughter, eggs, aquaculture, seafood, and horticulture products

Farmers can also post job listings for their farm. The platform allows farmers to upload photos of their products. Those farmers that are members of the state branding program Genuine MS will receive that designation. Moreover, the advertisement will be linked to their Genuine MS profile on Genuinems.com. This will allow viewers to learn more about these farms and their offerings.

"In light of the market disruptions caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce is proud to announce the Mississippi Farm Marketplace," said Commissioner Gipson. "Mississippi's food supply is abundant, plentiful and safe, and we have our farmers to thank for that. They have continued to work hard during this time to keep food on our tables. The Mississippi Farm Marketplace makes it easier for consumers to purchase direct from our farmers."

COVID-19 Aid for Farmers and Ranchers

By Chris McDonald
Director of Federal and Environmental Affairs - MDAC

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, Congress passed four major economic relief bills during March and April. The main two bills enacted into law that directly impact agriculture are H.R. 748 (Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act) and H.R. 266 (Paycheck Protection Program and Health Care Enhancement Act).

H.R. 748, better known as the CARES Act, appropriated $349 billion to establish the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) to provide eight weeks of cash flow assistance to small businesses; $14 billion to replenish the Commodity Credit Corporation which is used to stabilize, support, and protect farm income and prices through initiatives like the Market Facilitation Program; and $9.5 billion to be used by USDA for direct payments to farmers and ranchers impacted by COVID-19.

USDA will issue guidelines for direct payments in early May with a goal of issuing direct payments by the end of May. Because funds for PPP were depleted within days of program rollout, Congress passed H.R. 266 that provided an additional $310 billion for PPP and made farmers eligible for the Economic Injury Disaster Loan Program. For more information regarding COVID-19 aid, visit www.usda.gov and www.sba.gov.

The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

State Row Crop Planting Delayed by Wet Weather

By Bonnie Coblentz
MSU Extension Service

Wet weather that won't let up has resulted in a very slow start to Mississippi row crop planting, and time is running out for corn.

Erick Larson, grain crops agronomist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service, said he expects a tremendous reduction in planted acreage due to weather conditions this year.

"Some growers have already returned corn seed and made drastic changes regarding their planting intentions," Larson said. "We've just not had any decent planting windows."

Since early March, when corn planting typically begins, rains have come across most of the state at least once a week.

"Growers will swap cropping intentions to soybeans, cotton or perhaps grain sorghum, which are all planted later than corn," Larson said. "Rainfall during the planting season may also cause further issues, including stand failure, which would necessitate replanting."

Early in the year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimated Mississippi growers would plant 710,000 acres of corn. State growers planted 660,000 acres in 2019.

As of April 19, 2020, USDA estimated just 50% of the intended acreage had been planted. Nearly three-quarters of the crop is typically planted by that date. Larson said growers in northern counties can plant corn until at least May 10 with minimal risk.

"Some growers are likely going to have their corn acreage reduced by at least 50%," Larson said. "Corn productivity may soon diminish if they continue to plant."

Growers typically need five or six days of sunny, dry weather before soils are dry enough for farm equipment to enter a field after a rain.

"Some growers haven't even got their equipment out of the shed yet," Larson said.

Bobby Moody is one of the few corn farmers on schedule this year. Moody farms about 1,100 acres of row crops in Winston County with his daughter, Robin Fulton.

"This year compares to last year, and last year was really tough,"

Moody said. "You can tell the corn had an awful lot of water on it, but it's coming around really well. It's responding to some nitrogen we put on it in the last two weeks. It's had its problems, but it's not anything insurmountable."

Bobby Golden, rice specialist with the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station at the Delta Research and Extension Center in Stoneville, said frequent rains also put the rice crop well behind schedule. USDA estimated rice was 11% planted on April 19. Golden said about 60% of the crop is usually planted by this date.

"When it's too wet, rice can't be planted in the dry-seeded, delayed flood production system because we cannot get equipment into the field. About 98% of the Mississippi rice crop utilizes this production system," Golden said. "Rice can be water-seeded, which is when pre-germinated seed is dropped from a plane flying over a flooded field."

The rice planting window for optimal yield with no loss ends April 30. After that, Golden said producers can expect a 0.3% reduction in yield for every day that passes before the crop is planted.

"Good rice yields can be obtained outside the optimal planting window," Golden said. "Last year, we harvested profitable yields on rice planted as late as the middle of June."

Golden estimated Mississippi growers will plant about 165,000 acres of rice, up from the 115,000 acres harvested in 2019.
