Busy as a Bee: A Look Inside a Honey Bee Hive

By Keri Collins Lewis
MSU Extension Service

From the outside, a honey bee hive looks pretty simple: bees fly in and out. They fly around flowers, and once inside the hive, they make honey. They must be hard workers -- after all, the phrase "busy as a bee" had to come from somewhere.

Like many natural phenomena, a hive of honey bees is incredibly complex. Some scientists even classify a beehive, also called a colony, as a superorganism, an insect society made up of individuals that create a functioning whole.

Jeff Harris, a bee specialist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service, explained the

A queen bee scurries toward the bottom left corner of a frame of capped cells containing bee larvae. Worker bees have many different jobs within a colony, including caring for baby bees. Worker bees forage on flowers through the spring, summer and fall to gather and store the honey and pollen the colony needs to survive the winter months. intricacies of life as a worker honey bee.

"I don't think most people appreciate that worker bees change their jobs as they age, which is fascinating in its own right given that the typical worker bee lives a mere 5-7 weeks during the summer season," Harris said. "Their jobs are fairly distinct, as well."

Within the colony, worker bees have plenty to keep them occupied. Jobs include cleaning the nest, building comb, nursing bee larvae, heating and cooling the nest, caring for the queen, guarding against intruders, handling and storing food, and foraging for food and water.

"Changes in key hormones in the bodies of workers control the tasks and duties they perform," Harris said. "When they are young, between zero and three weeks old, these tasks focus on duties deep inside the nest. When they are three to six weeks old, workers spend most of their time outside the nest collecting food."

In terms of division of labor and based on gender, male bees -- called drones -- are living the lush life. They do no work. They do not have stingers for defense and do not collect pollen. That's right. All of the worker bees are female.

Drones exist for one purpose: to reproduce. When they are not congregating midair and waiting for a virgin queen to fly by, drones basically live off the effort of the workers in the colony. In areas with more severe winter temperatures, workers force the drones out of the hive at the end of the warm season to preserve the colony's food stores.

As for the queen, she may have the advantage of being fed, tended to and fiercely protected by workers, but she has her own job to do: laying eggs.

"The colony's survival depends on the queen," Harris said. "A queen can live for several years, and after her mating flight, she spends the rest of her life inside the hive laying eggs. The one exception is if the colony swarms, the queen will travel with the swarm to start a new home."

During her peak, a queen bee can lay up to 2,000 eggs per day. Laying eggs every day allows the colony's population to remain relatively constant through the summer. Depending on how long she lives, a queen could lay up to a million eggs during her lifetime.

"That seems like a lot, but the average colony has between 50,000 and 80,000 worker bees," he said. "Balancing the colony's food and water needs, along with the constant attention to the queen and the brood nest, requires a lot of workers."

When winter comes, the colony shifts from foraging for food to survival.

The queen stops laying eggs and the size of the colony shrinks. Short-lived summer workers die off, and winter bees take their place. These winter bees live longer than their summer counterparts and are typically born in the fall when goldenrod, aster and other pollen-rich plants are in bloom. They have more fat in their bodies to survive the winter, and then are able to transition to being nurse bees when the queen resumes laying in January.

On days when the temperature drops below about 57 degrees, honey bees do not fly. They stay inside the hive and cluster around the queen to keep her warm. But they are not hibernating. They are still busy, said Extension entomologist Blake Layton.

"In winter, just staying warm is the most important task for these cold-blooded animals. They do this by clustering together and rapidly flexing their muscles to generate heat." Layton said. "As bees on the outer layers get cold, they move into the cluster and other bees move outward, so there is constant motion in the hive."

All this activity requires a lot of energy, which comes from honey.

"The bees store honey and pollen for their own use, not to provide a delicious snack for humans," Layton said. "Successful beekeepers leave enough stores for their colonies to survive the winter, when the bees rely on what they have stored in the comb."

Then spring rolls around, and the cycle begins again.

Commissioner Andy Gipson Announces New Mississippi Agriculture Youth Council

By Hannah East
Marketing Specialist -MDAC

Commissioner Andy Gipson announced on March 4, 2021, the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC) is launching the new Mississippi Agriculture Youth Council.

The goal of this Council, comprised of youth leaders from around the state, is to provide students interested in the agriculture industry an experience that cultivates leadership and career development while developing the potential workforce for Mississippi. Any public, private or homeschool students can apply to become a member of the Agriculture Youth Council, and final applicants will be chosen by representatives at MDAC.

"I am so excited to launch the first-ever Mississippi Agriculture Youth Council," said Commissioner Gipson. "As the future of agriculture in our state, we are proud to give these students the opportunity to develop leadership, advocacy and employability skills through professional development, industry exposure and experiential learning in a variety of agriculture careers. So, I want to invite any youth leaders and students interested in the agriculture industry to apply for this incredible opportunity to serve during your senior year of high school. We will choose 12-15 students as members to serve on the Council for one year."

Eligibility Requirements:

- Must be a 12th grade student during the 2021-2022 school year. Current 11th graders in the 2020- 2021 school year may apply to serve during the upcoming school year.

Andy Gipson
Commissioner

- Any public, private or homeschool students may apply.
- Students must exhibit an interest, passion and/or experiences in agriculture.

Applications can be found online at agnetuat.mdac.ms.gov/youthcouncil/. All applications are due by Thursday, April 1, 2021. Semifinalists will be notified by April 15, 2021. Final interviews will be held virtually, and 12-15 youth leaders will be announced by Friday, May 14, 2021.

For more information about the Mississippi Agriculture Youth Council, visit www.mdac.ms.gov or contact Gayle Fortenberry at gayle@mdac.ms.gov or Emily Stovall at emilys@mdac.ms.gov.

WHAT IS THE AGRICULTURE YOUTH COUNCIL AND WHAT DOES IT DO?
This council was created by the Mississippi Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce, Andy Gipson, in order to provide future leaders of the agriculture industry an experience that cultivates leadership and career development and broadens horizons while developing the potential workforce for Mississippi. Council members will visit Mississippi agricultural companies and organizations, learn about the legislative process and how it affects the agriculture industry, shadow industry professionals and hone professional skills. Members will serve a one-year term on the council.

MISSION STATEMENT:
To develop future leaders in Mississippi through leadership and career development, industry exposure and experiential learning.

OUR GOAL:
To provide an opportunity for Mississippi's young agricultural leaders to develop leadership, advocacy and employability skills through professional development, industry exposure and experiential learning in a variety of agriculture careers.

WHAT IS THE SELECTION PROCESS AND HOW MANY ARE CHOSEN?
The Agriculture Youth Council is chosen by representatives in the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. Applications are due April 1, 2021. The electronic application can be found at <https://agnetuat.mdac.ms.gov/youthcouncil/>. Semifinalists will be notified by April 15, 2021. Final interviews will be held virtually and 12-15 youth leaders will be announced by May 14, 2021.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE TO BE A MEMBER OF THE AGRICULTURE YOUTH COUNCIL?

- High school juniors in school year 2021 to serve their senior year
- Any public, private or homeschool students may apply
- Student must exhibit an interest, passion and/ or experiences in agriculture

REQUIREMENTS UPON SELECTION:

- Students will be required to dress professionally for all Youth Council events.
- All travel to and from the MDAC office in Jackson will be the responsibility of students and/or parents.
- Commit to four council meetings from August 2021- June 2022.

From Our Kitchen To Yours

Springtime Honey Sweets

Honey-Glazed Popcorn

- 3/4 cup butter or margarine
- 2/3 cup honey
- 2/3 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 3 quarts popped popcorn
- 1 1/2 cups roasted peanuts

Melt butter in large saucepan; stir in honey, sugar, cinnamon and salt. Bring to a boil; stir constantly. Reduce heat to medium; boil without stirring for five minutes. Remove from heat; quickly stir in vanilla and soda. Place popcorn in large, heat-proof bowl; slowly pour syrup over popcorn while stirring. Add peanuts; mix thoroughly. Turn into two greased baking pans. Bake at 250° for 45 minutes; stir every 15 minutes. Scrape honey mixture from pan and coat popcorn thoroughly each time. Remove from oven; cool. Break into serving-sized pieces.

Chewy Honey Oatmeal Cookies

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup honey
- 1 large egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

- 1 1/2 cups quick cooking rolled oats
- 1 cup whole wheat flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup raisins, chocolate or butterscotch chips

In a medium bowl, beat butter with sugar until thoroughly blended. Blend in honey. Blend in egg and vanilla, mixing until smooth. In separate bowl, mix together oats, flour, salt, cinnamon and baking soda; blend into honey mixture. Stir in raisins or chips. Drop dough by rounded tablespoonsful onto greased baking sheet. Bake at 350° for 12-14 minutes or until cookies are golden brown. Remove from oven and allow cookies to cool 2-3 minutes before removing from baking sheet. Cool completely before serving.

Pineapple Honey Glazed Ham

- 1 (4 to 5 pound) fully cooked boneless ham
- 1 can (8 ounces) pineapple slices
- 1/3 cup honey
- 1 tablespoon ground mustard
- Ground cloves

Bake ham on rack in shallow baking pan at 325° for one hour or to 120° on meat thermometer. Drain pineapple; reserve liquid. Combined reserved liquid, honey, mustard and cloves; mix well. Score top of ham, if desired, and arrange pineapple slices on top.

Generously brush honey mixture over entire surface. Bake about 30-45 minutes longer or to 140°; baste every 10 minutes. Let stand 10-15 minutes before slicing.

Pear Honey Pie

- 4 cups pear, fresh, peeled, sliced
- 1/3 cup honey
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 4 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon fresh lemon peel, grated
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Toss pears with honey, cornstarch, lemon juice, peel and ginger. Turn mixture into pastry-lined 9-inch pie plate; dot with butter or margarine. Cover with top crust. Seal and flute edges; cut vents into crust. Bake at 400° 35-45 minutes or until pears are tender and crust is golden.

Advertising Guidelines

The Mississippi Market Bulletin is published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. The Mississippi Market Bulletin is an important way for the Department to disseminate news and information about issues affecting Mississippi's agriculture industry and the Department's operations.

Through its classified advertising section, the Bulletin provides a forum for Mississippi residents to buy and sell agricultural related items while also giving statewide exposure to small farmers who might not normally have the economic resources for such widespread advertising. The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Advertising rules and guidelines have been established for the Mississippi Market Bulletin in order to comply with regulations enforced by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and to maintain the objectives of the publication. The staff of the Mississippi Market Bulletin reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any advertisement.

The Mississippi Market Bulletin assumes no responsibility for any notice appearing in the Bulletin nor for any transaction resulting from published notices. Advertisers are cautioned that it is against the law to misrepresent any product offered for sale in public notices or advertisements carried in any publication that is delivered by the United States Postal Service.

- In order to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin you must be a subscriber. It's FREE to advertise, just include your name, mailing address and account number that the subscription is listed under on each ad that you submit (this information will not be printed). Each subscriber is allowed to advertise two ads in the Bulletin, listing one ad per category.
- All listings must be agriculture related (raised, grown, produced or operated on your farm). At the top of your ad, write the category that the ad should be listed under. We reserve the right to edit, revise or reject each ad. Please print or type your ad.
- There is a 30-word limit for classified advertisements, this includes: price (on the item you are selling), your city, county and telephone number or name and complete address must be included in the ad if you do not list a telephone number. Ads cannot be held over from one issue to another. You must submit them for each issue.
- Out-of-state residents are not eligible to advertise with the following exceptions: Out-of-state ads are allowed in the "Wanting To Buy" category. Out-of-state ads are allowed for individuals owning farm property within the state that is being offered for sale.

Commissioner Gipson Announces Inaugural Mississippi Mudbug Festival

By Kaitlyn Gill & KaLeigh Wilkinson - MDAC

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson announced the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce will host the inaugural Mississippi Mudbug Festival on Wednesday, April 7, through Sunday, April 11, at the Mississippi State Fairgrounds.

"I am excited to host the first-ever Mississippi Mudbug Festival right here in Jackson," said Commissioner Gipson. "This event will include a large crawfish boil, musical performances and over 20 carnival rides. All events will take place across the 105-acre Fairgrounds complex, and I want to invite the public to come out with their families and enjoy some good, Southern-style crawfish at this open-air, outdoor event."

The Festival will include live entertainment featuring Frank Foster, Doctor Zarr, Chad Wesley, Fordie

Hays and J Edwards; a crawfish eating contest on Friday; and on Sunday, crawfish enthusiasts will vie for the ultimate title of Champion of the 2021 Battle of the Crawfish. Other attractions include food vendors and amusement rides provided by North American Midway Entertainment with daily ride specials; crawfish plates provided by The Back Porch restaurant; and beverages provided by Southern Beverage Company and Clark Beverage Group. General admission is free and parking is $5 per car.

"Many Jacksonians will remember the Fairgrounds as the location of crawfish boils in the past with many good memories from those events. Though the Mississippi Mudbug Festival will be different from those crawfish boils of the past, we hope this new tradition will generate the same kind of great memories for a new generation of children and adults," said Commissioner Gipson.

Rides will open each day and prices are $1.50 per coupon, $25 for 22 coupons and $60 for 50 coupons. The public can also enjoy all rides for one low wristband price of $15 on Wednesday, April 7, and $25 on the remaining days. Advanced ride wristbands can be purchased online for $20 at <https://tickets.authenticgate.ca/store/#/NAME/546>. Tickets for Saturday and Sunday's musical performances can be purchased online at <https://www.ticketmaster.com/search?radius=10000&sort=relevance%2Cdesc&tab=events&q=mississippi%2Bmudbug%2Bfestival&daterange=all>.

The Tails and Ales Courtyard will be open daily with crawfish and beverages available for purchase. Crawfish will be provided by The Back Porch and sold for $15 per plate. Entry to the Mudbug Music Area on Saturday, April 10, will be $20 online pre-sale and $25 the day of.
